Duck killer's arrest brings $1,000

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

For Grass Lake resident Carl Campbell, an incident on the Fox River near Johnsburg was not just another snowmobile-related accident. The Antioch man vowed to do something about it. Campbell was so heart-sick over a snowmobiler killing 35 ducks on the river, that he put up a $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of whoever committed the heinous act. The Chicago-businessman said he has lived on the Chain O' Lakes for nearly 20 years and he thinks the flying fowl "are a magnificent site," but the population is dwindling.

"When I came here there were an awful lot of ducks and mud hens. Now there aren't very many," recalls Campbell.

Most people in his community are the friendly sort, out to help both man and beast.

But when Campbell turned on his car radio on his way into work Jan. 25 and heard what had happened a few days before, it sickened him.

"There are a few that have got a mean-streak in them," declared the roofing company owner. "Unless we protect them, they're See DUCK KILLER page A8

Illinois law is tougher than Brady

Lake County residents will not be affected by the Brady Handgun Prevention Act, signed by President Clinton late last year.

The national policy establishes a five-day waiting period before buying a gun in those states that do not have waiting periods. In Illinois a person must file for a Firearms Ownership Identification Card, which could take up to 30 days to receive while the state police perform a criminal and mental background check on the applicant. After being issued a FOID card, there is a three-day waiting period before one could purchase a gun.

While pro- and anti-gun forces battled angrily over the Brady Bill for seven years, many on both sides feel it will do little to prohibit criminals from obtaining guns from the black market or off the streets.

Women's Club to present crime prevention program

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Jr. Woman's Club is presenting a crime prevention program on Tuesday, Feb. 15 at 7:30. The talk and demonstration will be held at the First National Bank of Antioch.

Marilyn Nischan of the National Crime Awareness, Citizens Against Crime, an award winning speaker, will discuss and actually demonstrate self-protection measures. This hour long program will offer information on how to live safely in a not-so-safe world.

The emphasis of the program is to teach practical ways for people to protect themselves. The program is lively, fast paced, and highly informative.

The presentation will specifically address the types of crimes people fear the most. It includes safe ways to enter a parking lot at night, how burglars choose a home, how to stop an attacker, and how to repel a rapist. Also, approved self-defense equipment will be offered for sale after the program.

The Antioch Jr. Woman's Club has made a whole-hearted commitment to the project. The group has spent over 180 hours preparing a pamphlet, in conjunction with the Antioch Police Department on self-defense. The booklet is available at local banks and businesses.

"I really believe in this," said Fay Anderson, program director. "This is a very important issue for our club."

Everyone is invited to attend, although, the focus will be primarily for women. This excellent program emphasizes safety through education.

Chamber officers installed

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Even though it is only January, Antioch may have already had its most lively party of the year, Saturday, when the new Chamber of Commerce officials were installed. Candidates for various offices as well as Village and Township Trustees, area business owners, Chamber members, Chamber past presidents, and guests gathered together for dinner, dancing, and a great time at the Waterfalls Restaurant.

Outgoing chamber president, Debbilyn Cooksey reviewed some of the Chamber's accomplishments for the year.

"This year has been a very active term. Many projects were completed and many events were produced with great success," Cooksey told the audience. "With the joint efforts of the Chamber, Village and C.A.N., our community showed its Antioch spirit by working together. This year's accomplishments have been many. The industrial sign was erected, community maps and booklets were produced, and distributed. It was an exciting year for me and I hope I served you well."

Cooksey then introduced the 1994 Chamber Board which includes John McNeill, Mike Brink, Ed Cimaglio, and Ed Stanek. Karen Dunham of First National Bank will be first vice-president. Rich Zeman, of Antioch Pizza is the second vice-president and Bob Mueller of First Chicago-Antioch will be the treasurer. The secretary will be Cheryl White of Fantastic Sam's.

Awards were presented for events and then the new Chamber President, Gary Klean, took over. Klean reviewed some of the plans for 1994. Klean also took some time to emphasize the open door policy of the Chamber.

"We feel that everyone is important to us," said Klean. "We are only a telephone call away. Just let us know."

As soon as the speeches were over, the dancing began. And, continued until the wee hours.

Martinni tells open space views

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Judy Martinni, a Republican candidate for Lake County Board (Antioch-Dist. 1), shared some of her philosophies concerning land acquisition and her opposition to condemnation. Martinni, a real estate agent for Re/Max in Antioch and director of the Waterway Agency, emphasizes the importance of private property rights.

"I agree with the current Forest Preserve Board's general policy of not condemning land for acquisition," said Martinni. "In the past, some members abused this right of eminent domain, but they lost their power as a result while everyone learned an important lesson."

Martinni went on to describe an experience she had two years ago in her position as director. According to Martinni, the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) acquired all state-owned containment sites and was looking into more land acquisition through "Operation Quick Take." As a result of that policy, IDOT took title to the land first, then worked out the financial details.

As the director of the Waterways Agency, Martinni voted a definite "No" to that type of land acquisition. "I felt it was a violation of the land owner's rights and eliminated any sort of negotiation."

According to Martinni, there should only be one reason why the board should depart from this no-condemnation policy.

"Only in the case of an extremely environmentally sensitive area which needs to be protected would I even consider that possibility," explained Martinni. "Many people have moved into this area because of our lakes and rivers. A lot of what we once had here has been lost forever. We must protect the best of what is left and try to retain some of the rural character and beauty of our area."

"You know," Martinni continued, "people need three things to enjoy a good quality of life. A place to live, a place to work, and a place to play. And, I think the last one, a place to play, is every bit as important as the first two."

Loon Lake Landing fire investigation continues

The investigation of the fire that destroyed the Loon Lake Landing Restaurant in Antioch Township is still ongoing. The Antioch Fire Department is waiting for the reports from the Bureau of Alcohol, Firearms, and Tobacco. The fire, which was discovered at about 6 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 30 completely destroyed the restaurant.

The restaurant, which is located off of Grass Lake Road near Route 83 has had a spotty history. It has changed both names and owners several times in the last few years. It is currently owned by Joel Kennedy, who has operated the restaurant as the Loon Lake Landing since some time in July.

A reward is being offered by Kennedy for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person(s) responsible for the fire, however, at this time it has not been officially tagged arson.

Record temperatures mean record bills

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The recent record breaking low temperatures will also mean record breaking heat and electric bills for Antioch residents. Especially hard hit will be senior citizens on fixed incomes and low income families.

There are a couple of options which include the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program as well as payment plans with Commonwealth Edison and Northern Illinois Gas.

The absolute worst thing a utility customer can do is simply nothing. Once the utilities are shut off, usually the entire bill must be paid, not just the past due amount. Furthermore, the customer will then be faced with a reconnection charge.

Northern Illinois Gas includes customer information on the bill which explains the procedures for setting up a payment plan.

"Just give us a call," said a Northern Illinois Gas representative. "We try to make an arrangement. Do not just ignore the bills."

Customers of Commonwealth Edison should also call the company if the bills seem too overwhelming. Payment arrangements can be made.

For low income families there is the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP). The program provides assistance with gas and electric bills. In order to qualify gross income for the past 30 days can not be higher than $726 for a one-person household, $982 for two-person households, $1,238 for a three-person household, $1,494 for a four-person household, $1,750 for a five-person household, $2,006 for a six-person household, $2,262 for a seven-person household, and $2,518 for an eight-person household.

An appointment is necessary as well as proof of income. Call 546-5515 for more information about the program. The Community Action Program at 916 W. Rolling Road in Round Lake Beach administers LIHEAP for the area.

Newsletter closer to reality

The Antioch Township newsletter is one step closer to reality now that the printing bids are all in. The issue should be ready for board approval at the next township meeting on Feb. 11. Trustees Claudette Skvarce and Judy Davis worked to develop an outline of the newsletter format as well as calculate the costs of such an endeavor. Now that the preliminary work is done, all members of the township board will contribute to the newsletter. The newsletter is expected to incorporate Lake County information as well as local information for township residents.

The fish are biting in Antioch

According to Char, of Franks and Char's Resort on Lake Marie, the fish are biting. Using spikes, wigglers, and red worms, anglers are pulling out stripers, perch, and even some catfish. Char says business is booming and the ice is approximately 18 inches. Greg Dickson of Triangle Sports and Marine reports the stripers and walleyes are biting on Petite Lake, while stripers, perch, and catfish are being coaxed out of the water on Pistakee Bay. According to Dickson, there is some blue gill action on Channel Lake. He recommends using two-pound test in 6 to 8 feet of water, using wax worms.

4th of July in January

Despite the fact that it's January and one of the coldest months in memory, time still marches on. And so, Jack Miller, Dan Burke, Jolene Wolf, Laurie Stahl, Tom Kessell, Claude LeMere, and Carol Todd gathered this weekend to discuss the upcoming 4th of July celebration. The group met to start the parade rolling, the fireworks flying, and the hot dogs grilling.

Winter parking reminder

A reminder to Antioch Village residents that it is unlawful to park any vehicle on any village street for longer than three minutes to unload passengers and 30 minutes to unload property after the snow begins to fall and accumulate over one inch. This prohibition will continue during the winter snow season.

Changes planned for electrical code

An ordinance has been authorized to permit the appointment of electrical code committee. Under state law, a village must appoint a commission to review any changes in the electrical code. In order to update the current code, there must be a committee to review it. The committee is required to meet once a year.

Speaker's bureau organizing

The Citizens for ACHS Referendum Committee announces the organization of a Speaker's Bureau to assist the committee in informing the community about the upcoming election and issues concerning the Antioch Community High School referendum. If your service group, organization, or agency would like to request a presentation regarding the education fund referendum on March 15, please contact Linda Sigler at ACHS, 395-1421.

School Briefs

ACHS referendum meeting set

The Citizens for A.C.H.S. will host an informational meeting for the A.C.H.S. Education Fund Referendum on Wednesday, Jan. 26 at 7 p.m. in the high school commons. If you have any questions pertaining to the referendum, call the Referendum Committee hotline at 395-8991.

ACHS to register eighth graders

Plans are set for registering and enrolling area eighth-graders into Antioch Community High School for the 1994-95 school year. Current eighth-graders and their parents are invited to attend a Class of 1998 Open House on Wednesday evening, Feb. 2. The evening will begin at 7 p.m. in the north gym and include an Activities Fair, open department and classrooms and school personnel available to answer questions and explain the curriculum. Additionally, eighth graders in local feeder schools and their parents will be invited to attend one of the two Enrollment Nights Feb. 8 or Feb. 10, where students will be registered and enrolled in courses for 1994-95 school year.

Dis. 34 estimates fall enrollment

The Antioch Consolidated School District has an enrollment of 1,881 students as of November. This number represents 10 more students than last year. However, due to the increase in housing starts in the area, Superintendent Don Skidmore predicts an enrollment for the '94-'95 school year to be no less than 1,916 students, which is a 35-student increase. According to Skidmore, he anticipates the district will either have to have general music taught in the regular classrooms, build more portable classrooms, or simply operate large classrooms.

Committee members selected

The Antioch Consolidated School District has appointed committee members for the '93-'94 school year. The building committee will consist of Mike Perrone as chairman, Bud Newton, and Ken Chicon. The finance committee includes Kelly Baird as chairman, Glen Amundsen, and Mike Perrone. The negotiations committee includes Glen Amundsen as chairman, Gary Burnette, and Bud Newton. And, the policy committee consisting of Ken Chicon as chairman, Gary Burnette, and Kelly Baird.

Emmons PTO dinner dance

The 17th annual PTO dinner dance will be held on Saturday, Feb. 19 at Maravela's in Fox Lake. Chairpersons Kitty Wiegel and B.J. Dille are looking for willing volunteers to help them with this exciting event. Ticket sales will begin soon. There are many great raffle items, but more are needed.

Emmons prepares for referendum

The Emmons School District has passed a resolution calling for the issue of a building addition to be put on the ballot on March 15. The addition will add 14 classrooms on to the existing building. The cost is projected at $1.5 million. Community volunteers will be contacting residents to provide information. Volunteers are needed in order to help get the word out. Anyone having any questions or interested in volunteering may call Superintendent Matt Tabor at 395-1105 or Barb Comstock at 395-4292.

School closing information

Parents of students in Antioch's Community Consolidated School District 34 are reminded that school closing announcements due to bad weather will be made locally on channels: WKRS-WXLC 1220 AM, WNIZ 97 FM, AND WLIP-WJZQ 1050 AM 95.1 FM. In the event that weather and road conditions in the early morning would not permit the safe transportation of students, schools will be closed by the joint action of District 34 and Antioch Community High School. While WGN, WMAQ, and WBBM FM will also be called, the local stations often announce local school closings earlier than Chicago stations.

District 34 meeting rescheduled

The Board of Education of Antioch Community Consolidated School District 34 has rescheduled its regular meeting that was to be held on Tuesday, Jan. 18 to Tuesday, Feb. 1. The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the board room at the W.C. Petty School. The regular meeting for February will be held at its scheduled time on Tuesday, Feb. 15.

Library getting automated

Carolyn Pittman, Millburn District 24 librarian, reported on a plan to automate the school library using grant money and community donations of computer equipment. When the project is completed, the entire library collection will be tracked and students will eventually be able to acquire minimum information from other school and public libraries through networks.

Board handles SEDOL

Millburn District 24 school board adopted the 1994-95 contract with the Special Education District of Lake (SEDOL) at the current rate. In other related business, the board selected Malena Schroeder as the alternate school board representative to SEDOL governing board.

Board tables study

A proposal for a District 24 demographic study was tabled pending the identification of specific needs of the board in regard to the identification of variables to be measured.

Two Antioch schools on ballot

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Two school districts in Antioch will be looking for more money from taxpayers in March. The Antioch Community High School Board of Education has placed a referendum issue on the March 15 ballot to increase the education fund from $1.32 to $1.67, a 35 cent raise. Emmons School District has also placed a building addition referendum for $1.4 million.

The Emmons School building addition would include 14 classrooms to meet the needs of increased enrollment. Additional space has been a continued problem for a number of years at Emmons. Building accommodations as well as portable classrooms are being used, but even these are not sufficient.

Antioch Community High School's referendum is not a building referendum, but an education fund referendum. The board has identified six areas the increased revenue would be applied.

Approximately 28 to 35 percent would be used to eliminate the deficit. Currently, the education fund is over $2 million in debt. Even with the increases, it will take a minimum of five years to pay off the debt.

The increased revenue will also be used to replace outdated equipment and to provide computers. The activity program, which was cut for the '93-'94 school year, would also receive some of the funds. The money will also be used to add new curricular programs and to address some of the increased enrollment issues.

It is estimated Antioch Community High School will increase by 80 students in the next year and more teachers, supplies, and textbooks will be needed, as well as a reduction in the class size.

Both Emmons and Antioch High instituted numerous changes before going to the taxpayers. Community Committees have spent the past several years looking for solutions to the Emmons overcrowding situation. In 1990 the school undertook a life safety project that added two additional classrooms. Administrators increased the class size as well as added the relocatable classroom. Presently, the portable classrooms hold the school's library as well as some special education classes. Essentially, Emmons has run out of space.

Antioch Community High School instituted increased student fees, staff cuts, increased class size, scaled down purchasing of equipment and supplies, as well as a severe cut in the activity program.

Millburn students learn about aging

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Millburn students are learning about the aging process directly through visiting seniors at Victory Lakes Care Center.

The students will take part in an eight-week intergenerational program discovering the aging process with hands-on activities and talking with residents of Victory Lakes, according to Bobbi Pinka, activity director.

"For the kids, it shows them that aging is a process," Pinka said. "They learn that old people are the same as young people."

This is the first year the school has tried the program. The kids are doing more than just talking to the residents, they are taking part in activities which demonstrate the aging process.

The kids have already met the seniors and talked to them. The seniors shared stories of when they were students.

The events include a lecture on diseases such as Parkinson's disease, diabetes and Alzheimer's disease. They will have wheelchair square dancing and hands-on experiments where the students are put in the place of being a resident.

"They will learn what it's like to dress with the use of one arm. They get an idea of being in a wheelchair," Pinka said.

Jane Reu, health instructor at Millburn, said the kids get a new perspective on a whole group of people. "It gives them a chance to go outside the walls of the school and connect with another part of the community they are not aware of."

The school hopes the eighth-graders will have a better understanding of the aging process. The kids may also pick up on the career aspect of the geriatric profession. They will see nurses and physical therapists in action, according to Reu.

"They get exposed to the geriatric career opportunities. There is going to be a real need of geriatric care givers as the baby boomers get older. Maybe one of them, through the experience, might try it as a career."

Pinka said from the first visit it has been positive for both groups. "They (kids) have responded well. You could see they were wide-eyed when they came in, that they were unsure what was going on. They engaged in talking to the residents and shared school stories."

The residents enjoyed having a new group of kids to talk with.

"They kept asking where are the kids? They really look forward to seeing them," Pinka said.

St. Peter School to hold open house

Mrs. Henriksen and the faculty and staff of St. Peter School cordially invite all parents and parishioners to attend an open house at St. Peter School on Sunday, Feb. 6, following the 9:30 a.m. Mass and continuing until 1 p.m. Children's work will be displayed in each homeroom and throughout the school.

St. Peter School Family Association will host the open house, providing refreshments, including coffee and rolls.

Members will welcome parents and information regarding the association will be available at the membership table.

Registrations for 1994-95 for families new to St. Peter School will begin at 10:30 a.m. this same day. Families presently enrolled may register immediately after the 9:30 Mass. It is important that everyone register now because some grades are close to our numerical limit. Every family must register, including those

Possible prowler seen

An east side resident contacted police Jan. 24 after seeing a male subject outside a window at about 12:30 a.m. The subject also appeared to be throwing something at the residence. Police noticed one set of tracks in the snow around the building. The police will be giving the area extra watch.

Charles Duncan Jr., 24, of 24570 Forest Ave. in Round Lake was apprehended after an Antioch resident reported a black Polaris snowmobile stolen between 2:30 and 3 a.m. Jan. 23 while the resident was in Waterfalls Restaurant at Rte. 173 and Tiffany. At 3:30 a.m. officers were dispatched to Realty World at 549 Lake St., where Duncan lost control of the vehicle and hit a tree. He was held to the ground by a friend of the snowmobile owner, who recognized the snowmobile, until the police arrived. There were no charges or court date listed in the police report. The snowmobile was valued at $5,000.

Former banker will be missed

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

A man who was described as "kindly, generous," "direct" and "always polite" died last week, much to the dismay of his many friends.

Former Lake Villa resident William C. "Bill" Buschman, 53, was one of the originators of the Fox Lake State Bank before it was sold to First Colonial.

A multitude of bank patrons remember Buschman as well as many Masons and Shriners. Buschman was a longtime member of the Chain O' Lakes Shrine Club as well as the Sequoy 827 Blue Masonic Lodge in Antioch.

Buschman had made the state of Florida his home but returned to Illinois when he became increasingly ill.

The former bank owner reportedly had battled a bout with lung cancer for several years.

Village Trustee and 27-year Shriner Darwin Follman remembers when Buschman used to help with the Shrine organization, even after he became ill.

"Whenever we had any doings, Bill was right behind us 100 percent," said Follman.

Antioch resident Joe Titus said he will never forget Buschman, as they were close pals and both Masons. "I know him as a loyal friend. He's always been a very positive man," Titus said.

Buschman died Jan. 19 in Lake Villa and funeral services for him were held at the K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home Jan. 21. For obituary, see section C.

Felter's Winter Carnival is a hit

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Felter's Homeowners Association finally had its Annual Winter Carnival this weekend

after it had been canceled for inclement weather. The weather certainly cooperated Saturday with above freezing temperatures and sunny skies.

From 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., the children of the subdivision participated in combination relay races, football toss, snow golf, hockey puck shooting, as well as singles speed racing. Jason Ultes was the first-prize winner after all the points were calculated.

Second-place winners Jeff Ultes and Megan Schawel tied, while Josephine Abbato placed third. Debby Perry and Emily Schnelle tied for fourth place. All the winners won "cold" cash.

After the winter games, everyone retired to the clubhouse for a dinner of chilimacs, donuts, apple juice, and hot chocolate. After dinner, parents and children alike gathered for the bonfire.

From 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., the fire burned brightly while the group talked and sang songs. It was the perfect capper to a perfect day.

"It was so nice out there," said Meredith Schnelle, one of the carnival's organizers. "It was beautiful."

The carnival was organized by Al Weber, Meredith and Rich Schnelle, and Mary Jones.

Duck killer

going to go the way of the passenger pigeon."

Conservation Department police reported that sometime during the hours of 10:30 p.m., Jan. 20, and 7 a.m., Jan. 21, the bodies of eight hen and 27 drake mallard ducks were found scattered about a 150-foot stretch of river.

Officials said pieces of a Polaris snowmobile were found nearby, apparently left behind from the collision. Also they are unsure if the sled operator(s) made more than one trip running over the water fowl who were likely roosting near a small opening in the frozen river.

According to state law, the misdemeanor offense carries a maximum sentence of $1,000 and a year in jail for each duck killed. The snowmobile could also be seized under forfeiture laws.

Johnsburg Police Chief Ken Rydberg was just as outraged. "There's no reason for this. They're a part of our nature," the chief said.

This year has been especially havoc-wreaking for the police on the Chain and the river. So far, at least three snowmobile related deaths on the river have been noted, said Rydberg, and five arrests on the river for operating sleds while under the influence.

Although Rydberg said the percentage of snowmobilers driving while intoxicated may be small, the duck killings may have been alcohol- or drug-related according to his hunch.

An investigation is being conducted by the Conservation Department in Spring Grove and state and local officials are searching for at least one subject in the incident.

Kramer graduated, is doctor of Philosophy

Congratulations

On Sunday, Jan. 16 the family members of Sharon Vivian Kramer gathered at Medinah Temple in Chicago to support and honor her great educational accomplishment. They were definitely proud as she stepped up to receive her Doctor of Philosophy Degree. Sharon earned this high degree at Loyola University and during the graduation ceremony held at the temple, she was one of the 75 Ph.D. recipients stepping up to receive the degree out of a large graduating class consisting of well over 1,000 scholars. After the ceremony, the family members and friends of the 75 Ph. D. scholars were invited to a delicious luncheon at Loyola University. Dr. Sharon Kramer is an administrator for the Waukegan grade school district and now Lizard and readers take great pride in saluting her high scholastic achievement. Congratulations, Dr. Kramer.

New program

A wonderful new parent assistance program is being offered at the United Methodist Church in Antioch. "Parents Day Out" is an intermittent child care program for parents of children ranging in ages 6 months to 5 years old. It is designed as a babysitting option for parents needing some time away from children. This fine service is available at the church on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Parents have the option to leave their children for the full five hours or an hour or two as they feel necessary. The cost is $8 and enrollment is limited.

Also, individual families can utilize the service one day a week—not both days—in order to make the service available to more people. There will be four qualified, caring, experienced adults on duty to care for the children. Learning experiences will be offered and there are scholarships available for families who can demonstrate a genuine need. If you need to leave your child through the lunch hours, you are asked to send along a sack lunch for the day. For more information concerning "Parents Day Out," please call the church office 395-1259.

Youth earns Eagle wings

A 14-year-old Lindenhurst youth earned the highest honor in the Boy Scouts, the Eagle Scout.

Jeff Crivello, son of Donna and Steve Crivello, is a freshman at Antioch Community High School, and a member of Troop 190 in Antioch.

Crivello, with the assistance of other Scouts in his troop, planted 75-100 plants at various places around the Lake Villa Methodist Church. He is a member of the church and knew the grounds needed improvement.

"He enjoyed it. It is something the church needed and really appreciated it," Donna Crivello said.

Crivello is a member of the church and wanted to help the church. He put in over 70 hours into the project, with labor and searching for donated supplies.

Crivello is involved in other activities besides Scouting. He plays golf for the high school also.

The supplies for the project were donated by McKay Nursery, Bailey's Nursery, Koeunes, Wolohan Lumber, Lester's and Schneider Trucking. —by ALEC JUNG

Best of the breeds to compete

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

It will be tails up and noses forward this weekend at the Lake County Fair grounds for the All Breed Dog Show. Roughly 1,300 dogs of 125 breeds have been entered for this two-day event.

The Park Shore Kennel Club is sponsoring the Saturday show on Jan. 29, while the Chain O' Lakes Kennel Club will be sponsoring Sunday's offering, on Jan. 30. Both will be all breed shows. The showtimes will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

According to Bernard Schwartz, of the American Kennel Club (AKC), the national organization sanctioning the show, recognizes approximately 136 breeds of dogs at this time. The breeds are then broken down into seven categories, and the dogs are then judged within these categories.

The first category are the sporting dogs, which include the Labradors and other hunting dogs. Then, there are the non-sporting dogs such as the bulldogs and pugs. Other categories are hounds, working dogs, herding dogs, terriers, and toys. There will be a winner in each group. These seven winners will then compete for the "best of the show."

Each day will be a separate show and dogs are permitted to compete both days. While the same dogs may compete, there will be different judges on each day. The AKC requires a 30-day period before the same judge is permitted to judge the same group or dogs or best in show.

The dogs are rated in accordance with the "standard" of the breed. This may mean different things depending on the breed.

According to AKC rules, a kennel club is permitted a maximum of two shows per year, roughly six months apart. The Park Shore Kennel Clubs hold their shows the 5th weekend every January and the 31st weekend, which is in July.

A portion of the entry fees paid by dog owners will go to charity. The charities are usually dog and person related such as the seeing eye dogs or dogs for the deaf programs.

"People still count with us," explained Schwartz. "The money goes to organizations that help both people and dogs."

An AKC Field representative will be present at both shows. The AKC encourages people to ask questions and to learn as much as possible. A breeders page, for people wishing to breed their dogs, will be available. Also, information will be on hand for people who wish to start showing their AKC registered dogs.

Volunteers make a difference at Victory Lakes

"The volunteers at Victory Lakes are invaluable. I don't know what we'd do without them," says Janet Crane, director of Volunteer Services at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, Lindenhurst.

Victory Lakes' 110 volunteers from throughout northwest Lake County donated over 9,000 service hours in 1993. These volunteers, whose ages range from 4 to 81, share their time with residents in a variety of activities. They prove that you're never too young or old to volunteer.

"I've made some good friends at Victory Lakes. I enjoy being a part of their lives and making them happy," says Jennifer Garwood, Antioch.

The Carmel High School sophomore has been a volunteer at Victory Lakes for over two years. She helps out in the beauty shop by manicuring nails and transporting residents to their rooms. Garwood also assists in activities such as bingo and bowling.

"I thoroughly enjoy volunteering," says Betty Pischke, Lake Villa. "I love being with the residents and giving them hugs. I wouldn't miss it for the world!"

A Victory Lakes volunteer since March, 1988, Pischke shares her talents with residents. Her weekly activities include leading the sing-a-longs and working in the beauty shop.

"It's wonderful to see the interaction between the volunteers and residents," says Crane. "I've seen volunteers turn tears into a smile. They are truly special people."

For information about volunteer opportunities at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, call 356-5900 and ask for Janet Crane, director of Volunteer Services.

Salvi supports waterway agency

Voters in Lake County's Grant Twp. could gain the opportunity to decide the fate of the Chain-O-Lakes-Fox River Waterway Agency in this year's elections under a measure that won the Illinois Legislature's approval, said state Rep. Al Salvi, who voted for the referendum.

Salvi (R-Ingleside) said he supports the referendum proposition, as contained in House Bill 2082, because it's a step closer to being a binding decision on the waterway agency, which is scheduled to expire on Jan. 1, 1995.

"I believe the people should have the right to decide if it needs to continue. The ballot box is the best way to make that important decision," Salvi said following the measure's passage in the House and Senate.

If approved by Gov. Edgar, the Lake County Clerk would be authorized to place the binding referendum on either the March 15 primary or Nov. 8 general election ballots. Only voters in Grant Twp. and other townships bordering the Fox River in McHenry and Lake Counties will be eligible to decide the agency's fate beyond its scheduled sunset of Jan. 1, 1995.

"Should the voters decide either way, then we must live with that decision. That's democracy in action," Salvi said.

The waterway agency was established by the Legislature 10 years ago to locally manage the Fox River in McHenry and Lake Counties, including the Chain-O-Lakes system. Its activities consist of enforcing boat safety, removing natural obstacles, providing clean up of environmental hazards and keep the river system free from floods.

Lawmakers created the Chain-O-Lakes-Fox River Waterway Agency because the state had significantly reduced its role to provide storm water and environmental protection.

Crane speaks out on health care reform

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Presenting an energetic speaker, the Lake County Underwriters Association annual Legislative Meeting turned out to be an impressive affair.

Normally a group of around 75 meet, but this year 133 underwriters from the area gathered at the Buffalo Restaurant in Libertyville to hear from various guests including "dynamic speaker" U.S. Congressman Phil Crane.

Crane had a word or two about President Clinton's health-care reform which kept the crowd

"mesmerized," according to John Robb, head of the county association of underwriters. Director Berne Clary of Allstate Insurance in Fox Lake agreed.

"He quoted different costs off the top of his head" among giving a detailed speech on the President's issue which the underwriters are not fond of, but are not opposed to healthcare reform in general," Robb said.

"It was very interesting to see where some representatives were conservative and others in fact were not," the association chief explained.

Chief defends policies

ALEC JUNGHE
Staff Reporter

Round Lake Beach Police Chief Richard Jablonski issued a statement welcoming a States Attorney's Office investigation into his activities as police chief.

Jablonski is under investigation by the States Attorney's Office after allegations were made by the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) at a public hearing on Jan. 10. The village board asked the State's Attorney's Office to investigate the charges.

In a statement issued by Lake County Democratic Party Chairman Terry Link, Jablonski accuses the FOP of bringing the charges after the officers refused random drug testing.

"I have requested all the officers conduct themselves in a professional matter," Jablonski said.

FOP President David Hare made statements at the Jan. 10 meeting for all FOP members. The allegations included officers arresting people who weren't given Miranda warnings, reports changed and handcuffing people to the wall.

"I have been a professional law enforcement officer for 33 years, during which time I have served in the Internal Affairs Department of the Chicago Police Department as an investigator and believe that it is my duty as a sworn officer and chief of police to promote, protect and defend the dignity and rights of an individual," Jablonski said.

Hare said the union decided not to open up the contract at the time. "We all agreed not to open up the contract."

Hare also said the FOP is satisfied the States Attorney's Office is looking into the charges. The union offered at the hearing to have an independent investigator look into the matter.

Chamber supports waterway

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

In between bites of green bean-almondine, Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce members got the low-down on what the waterway agency has accomplished, and an explanation of the referendum.

The CCCA, better known as Concerned Citizens for the Continuation of the Agency shared their pleas after Chairman Dr. William C. Dam spoke, and the executive director gave a slide show at the first luncheon of the year held at Maravella's Banquet Hall.

The chairman asked the Chamber for its support in the up and coming referendum to save the agency by passing a resolution. Members unanimously agreed.

Prior to the Chamber officials' decision, Dam explained various intergovernmental agreements the agency has with the Illinois Conservation Department and IDOT as well as achievements in the past several years like dredging, and cleaning channels in the lakes which is a big plus for boaters.

The agency has also been a boost for the west area waters. "This is the first year the Fox River has gotten some serious attention," Dr. Dam said.

Statistics were stated by the chairman who explained that so far 6,500 truck loads of silt were removed from the river and lakes; 350 tires and 400 trees have been removed from navigation channels by agency crews; and over 22,800 user fee permits were issued by the agency.

Another positive point are the delicate lotus beds once near extinction, now are making a come-back in Grass Lake, Dam noted.

Hoping for a round of support, Dam told the crowd, "We're doing our best. We hope you get out and vote." The chairman was talking about the referendum to be on March ballots that will hold the future of the waterway agency's existence.

Commended for doing an excellent job in her assistance in obtaining permits for various projects, Dam introduced Executive Director Karen Kabbes who displayed slides of before and after shots of the lakes showing remarkable improvements.

Co-chairman of the CCCA of the Lake County branch, Pete Jakstas explained to Chamber members the need for their vote. "If we lose the agency, we will lose home-control."

Jakstas said that if the agency fails to operate due to the sunset clause ending Dec. 31, equipment such as the amphibious backhoe used for dredging will go back down to Springfield to be auctioned off.

The co-chairman admitted that when the agency began in 1984, things weren't always good. "The first few years the agency made some mistakes, but they had no guidelines," Jakstas explained of the baby-agency. "Now the last few years have been phenomenal."

Bud Scott, former agency director and waterway supporter, addressed the room from his table. "The message they have to get out is to vote 'yes,'" said Scott. He also asked for monetary donations from the businesses in town to help with the CCCA.

Jakstas stressed that if the agency continues to operate, no money will come out of real estate taxes, but will be generated from user fees from boat stickers.

Task force keeps gangs in check

ALEC JUNGHE
Staff reporter

For gangs in Round Lake Beach, it isn't business as usual as the Gang Crimes and Drug Task Force has helped focus enforcement and arrests on drugs and gangs.

Some of the group's successes are impressive. The task force was able to identify and arrest the perpetrators of a drive-by shooting in the summer within 72 hours. They assisted in the investigation and helped arrest a Grayslake drive-by shooting and helped arrest a suspected drug dealer involved in numerous thefts with the assistance of Grayslake and Fox Lake officers.

The task force has made 47 drug arrests. The force has seized over 934 grams of marijuana with a street value of $5,325, 23 grams of cocaine at $2,300. It claims to have arrested many drug dealers and gang leaders.

"About 10 percent of gangs are hard core members or leaders, Ostertag said. "If there is criminal activity the leaders are directly involved in doing the actual crime. From the evidence from the crime, they are identified and taken off the streets."

Ostertag said although the unit is doing a good job, it doesn't mean the gangs are stopped and the task force is finished with its work. He cited the examples of Waukegan and Elgin as places which had quick success with gang crimes units only to have them cut and crime escalate again.

"The gang problem is not going to go away," Ostertag said. "If you cut back, the activity will increase. You can look at the numbers and see."

The effect of the task force is hard to gauge. One indicator is that gang related crimes in the newspapers have been down, according to Ostertag.

In comparing records, there were 47 drug arrests. The previous 4 1/2 years combined had the same arrest record, according to Ostertag.

Cajun-good time to come to town

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Feel the excitement and splendor of Mardi Gras in New Orleans right in Lake Villa, Feb. 4 and 5.

For the third year, Prince of Peace Parish is sponsoring the event. The school is changed to Bourbon Street in New Orleans. Activities for all include blackjack and poker tables, music, dancing and authentic Cajun food.

"Each room is so unique," Lois Barrett, chairperson of Mardi Gras said. "It's very festive and colorful. It's definitely something to brighten up the season."

One room is a gaming room with blackjack tables and poker tables. Another serves Cajun food including muffalattas, a sandwich with salami, pastrami and cheeses. Classrooms throughout the school are transformed into a special-themed area.

A special drink called the Hurricane is also served. The drink is famous at Pat O'Brien's on Bourbon Street.

The rooms were decorated with the help of community members and donations from area businesses. The signs were made by volunteers.

Mardi Gras is a big draw for the community. Barrett said the first year 1,200 attended, last year about 1,500, and this year she expects at least 1,800. "It's a small community so its an opportunity to meet your neighbors."

A ballroom will feature dancing and entertainment. This year music is provided by a '40s and '50s band and a country music band.

The idea for the festival came when the parish was looking a festival near a holiday and chose Mardi Gras, when translated means "Fat Tuesday". It's a French celebration, made famous in New Orleans, a week before Ash Wednesday, the start of lent for Roman Catholics.

The cost is $9 which includes admission into Mardi Gras. Food and drinks are extra. Laura's Flower and Gift Shop on Route 83 in Lake Villa is selling tickets in advance. For more information call Barrett at 578-6400.

Snowflake helps build kids' self-esteem

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

A self-awareness and esteem program for Lake Villa and Lindenhurst youth is back with even more for the students.

Operation Snowflake is back and this one promises to be even better. This program is different than others because it is coordinated and run by high school students for junior high students.

The directors running the program this year are Jana Haggund, a Sophomore at Antioch Community High School, and Rachel Harnegel, a Senior at Grayslake Community High School. Participating are seventh- and eighth-grade students from Lake Villa Intermediate, Prince of Peace and Millburn Schools.

"I'm hoping each one of the kids realizes self esteem is the key to staying away from drugs and alcohol," Haggund said. "They don't have to take drugs and alcohol to have fun."

"It lets them know they are not alone," Harnegel said of Snowflake.

The directors were selected from last year's directors. They both were student volunteers in last year's Snowflake. The students will make a challenge to the board. Harnegel and Haggund planned out three speakers and discussion groups on issues teens face.

The speakers are BLN express who were teen counselors last year and now in college. The other speakers are Ron Bean, and parent speaker Ann Meyer.

The kids will also participate in workshops on topics such as AIDS, eating disorders, gang awareness, and leadership.

Harnegel stressed Snowflake is more than a one-day event. There are outings and reunions throughout the year.

Both directors say they enjoyed implementing a program from scratch. They said the community was a big asset in their goal to put the program together.

"You learn how much people in the community will help. The Lindenhurst Community Partnership and mayors office have been really helpful. It goes to show that there are so many people in a community who are willing to help," Harnegel said.

The activities will take place at St. Mark Church in Lindenhurst.

Lake Villa fire department to hold dance

For some fun and excitement on a cool evening come to the "Frostbite Dance right in the down home atmosphere of the Lake Villa Fire Station.

The festivities start at 8 p.m. and should last until about 1 a.m. The music will be provided by Reflex.

The event is a fund raiser for the Lake Villa Fire Department. The proceeds will go towards a Crash Rescue vehicle, according to Glenn McCollum of Lake Villa Fire Department.

"We would use it mainly for accidents," McCollum said. "It is also equipped for underwater recovery and has ropes for rappelling."

The vehicle also has sheers to cut open car doors if necessary. It has a water supply to fight fires and a portable generator, according to McCollum.

ing to McCollum.

The current unit the department has is outdated and needs to be replaced. Fund raisers such as the dance and Lake Villa Days help support the purchase of this special equipment.

Cost is $5. Beverages will also be available. For more information, call McCollum at 356-6100.—by ALEC JUNG

Mandralla, Rams zoom past Indians

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The best team Northwest Suburban Conference offers is the quick and diverse Grayslake squad.

The Big Eight Conference counters with tall Marengo. Chalk one up for quickness as Grayslake held off Marengo 71-56.

The Rams improved to 12-5 overall with the win Saturday in non-conference play. The Indians dropped to 12-4.

Dave Mandralla showed the crowd who made the 90-minute trip east what it is like to combine court savvy, quickness and uncanny shooting ability as he scored 30 points. Todd Alfred, who sparked the team defensively, had 18 and Geoff Sponholtz 10 as Coach Greg Groth hit the century mark in wins.

"Alfred played a tremendous defensive game. I thought we played pretty good defense, but they hurt us on the boards. Our kids are battlers. It shows a lot of character," Groth said.

Mandralla was coming off a 25-point outing in an easy win over Wauconda, a 76-52 Grayslake win. The 30 against the Indians represented just three less than his season best.

"I had no idea. I don't think about it," he said of his point totals.

"David played a great game. When we needed a bucket, David scored one. That is David," Groth said.

Grayslake hosts Marian Central at 7 p.m. Jan. 28.

John Parr contributed 8 rebounds and earned praise from the top scorer.

"He brings a lot of intensity and makes it a lot more fun," Mandralla said.

Groth explained Parr was suspended for the first five games but has been contributing since.

Marengo featured players six-foot, seven inches, 6-5 and 6-3.

Brian Koplin led the Indians with 14 points.

Marengo used its height to trim a 16-point halftime Grayslake lead to 10 with the ball.

But Alfred came up with a steal and a feed to Mandralla for a 49-37 lead with 7:20 left. Another Mandralla layup rebuilt the 14-point lead.

"We needed to tire them down," Stech said.

"They were big, but the third quarter was laziness on our part," we have to improve that," Mandralla said.

"We want to keep winning," he concluded.

Early-season losses pay later for Grant's Powers

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Winning is an obvious time for celebration. Losing is a time for learning.

Grant High 189-pound wrestler Shawn Powers lives by that these days as he prepares for the Northwest Suburban Conference meet and another bid for a trip to Champaign and the state finals.

Powers won two more matches Saturday at Round Lake, including a 7-4 decision over rival Chris Haag of Antioch.

"I wrestled against him in the regional finals last year. I tried not to make mistakes. Last year's match was really close. I tried to stay on my feet," Powers said.

The senior help lead the football team to a conference title and a playoff appearance, but he did manage to work in some tournaments.

"The first time downstate, you feel the nerves," Powers said.

Powers lost two matches earlier this year but has bounced back strong. He won't see them in post-season, as they are from Class A Waubesa Valley and Harvard.

"It helped a lot. It showed me what it felt like losing," Powers said.

Powers completed a successful day with a 6-3 win over Marist.

"Powers is wrestling well. His goals are high. The two losses were a blessing in disguise. Some guys have a confidence problem after they lose, but not Shawn," Grant Coach Dave Kerpian said.

Grant's Ron Bogseth has been back and forth between 119 and 112 pounds, where he will be at for conference.

"I feel a lot more comfortable at 112," the senior said. He is 24-3 overall.

Antioch had no trouble winning the dual meet with a 43-14 decision. While Grant is striving for all the marbles in the Northwest Suburban at Wauconda Jan. 28, Antioch is the favorite in the North Suburban meet at Stevenson Jan. 29.

Grant fell to Marist 54-7.

"We are in a little slump now. I am disappointed, but not discouraged," Kerpian said.

Antioch's Joe Earl and Grant's Mark Schweiss had one of the most exciting matches of the year at 152 pounds.

The two were tied 4-4 into the waning moments of the third period. A switch move at the buzzer earned Earl the win.

"I started out flat, but I got better as the match went on," Earl said.

Earl extended his win streak to five.

He started wrestling in eighth grade, but his first sports love is soccer. At Antioch, he anchors center midfield. He is also a member of the 200, 400 and 1,600 relay teams in track.

He already knows how to do well when that is unexpected. "I finished third in the conference last year despite being seeded eight of eight," he said.

The day was the one after Antioch had ended a perfect NSC season with an 8-0 record. Antioch manhandled Zion-Benton 54-5.

Coach Ted Sieckowski had high praise again for Brian Maicke, a 160 pounder.

"He has been steady for us the last few weeks," Sieckowski said.

Jon Osmond returned to the lineup and recorded a win at 171 over Grant. "He looks terrific. He is deceptive," Sieckowski said.

Against Zion, among the key matches was a 10-5 decision by James Patterson at 135 pounds.

For host Round Lake, the lack of depth woes continue.

Senior Mike Kukla returned at 112 pounds and recorded two wins. He recovered from a wrist injury.

"He looked good this weekend," Coach Mike Farina said.

Round Lake lost 43-19 to Grant in NWSC dual, 59-5 to Antioch and 59-9 against Marist.

Kukla recorded the only win against Antioch, downing Justin Dyer.

"I was kind of tired in the third period, but I should be OK for regional and sectional," Kukla said.

Kucharski's consistency helps Sequoits Hockey

Antioch High's boys basketball team fell victim to a close loss for what seemed to be the upteenth time when the team fell 44-42 at Fenton Friday.

"I guess for some reason we cannot get our shots to drop. Maybe it is a confidence factor. We have lost eight close games," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said.

Tony Petrovich, Fenton's leading scorer with 22 points, hit a jump shot with 14 seconds left to win it. Antioch had a last-second shot, but did not get off a good shot and dropped to 0-9 in the North Suburban Conference.

Antioch led 2-0, but Fenton dominated until the final minutes. The two teams were tied 6-6 after one, but the home team opened a five-point halftime lead. Antioch won the second half 30-27.

There were bright spots this Friday in Bensenville.

Tony Kucharski scored 12 points, all in the second half. Adam Becker led the effort with 13.

"Tony is a real consistent player. He does a good job handling the ball. He kept us in the game in the second half," Dresser said. "He lets the game come to him and he can stop and pull-up for a jump-shot," Dresser said.

Kucharski has averaged 11 points a game in the last four contests.

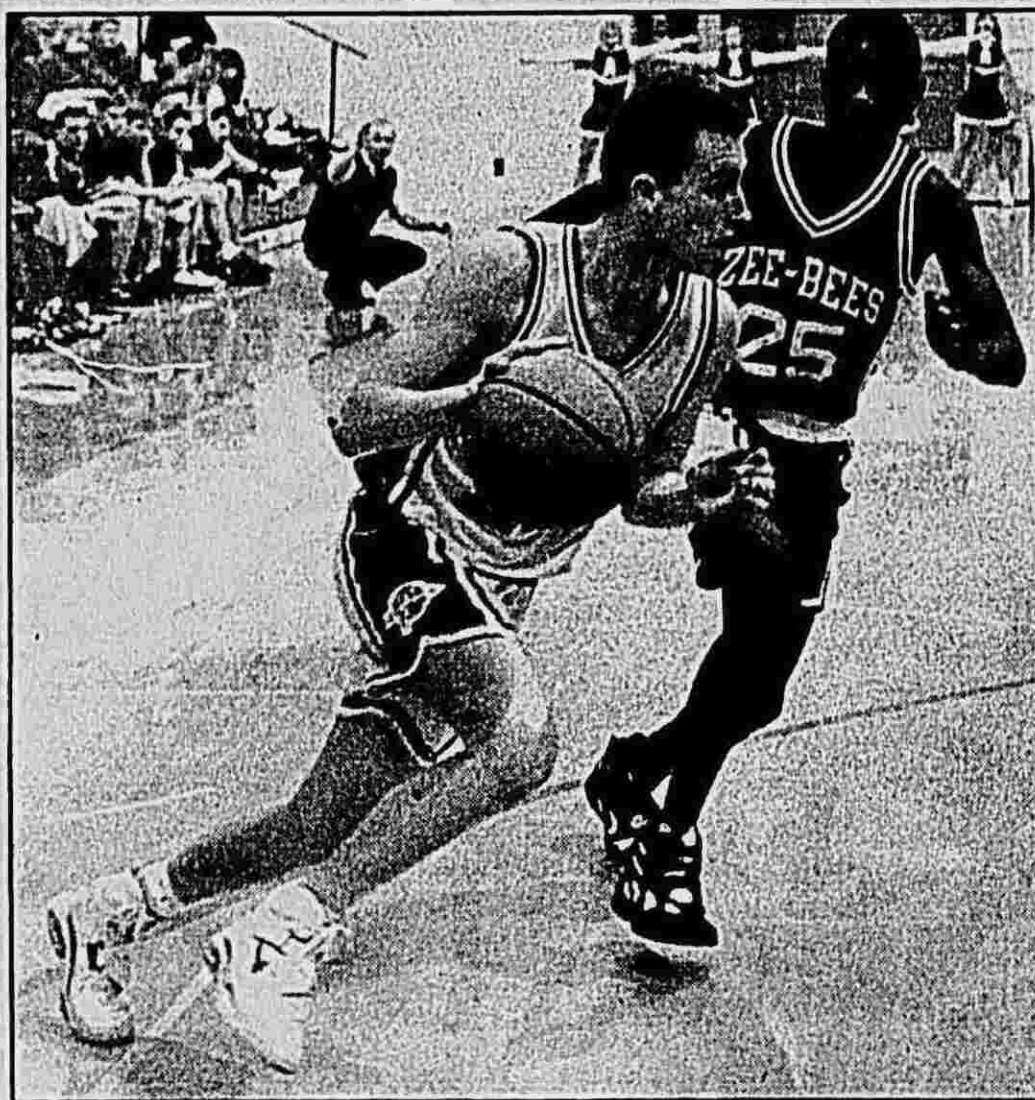

Consistency will be the watchword as the Sequoits try to improve on their 4-14 overall mark by hosting Libertyville Jan. 28 at 7:30 p.m.

"We will be talking about consistency the rest of the way. Some guys score 13 one night, two the next. Eric Eckensthaler can score 31 one night, but then seven," Dresser said.

The Sequoits nearly pulled off an upset the first round at Libertyville before falling 60-57.

"They have some weapons with Matt Heldman," Dresser said.

Dave Smith and Becker guarded Heldman, bound for the University of Illinois next year, last time.

Kane sweeps gymnastic firsts, tops Bears

Jessica Kane put on a gymnastics show Monday that few will forget they witnessed.

The Antioch junior recorded first-place finishes in the vault, balance beam, uneven bars and floor exercise. She paced the home-standing Sequoits to a 124-118.9 win.

Her scores: 33.7 for the all-around; 8.7 for the uneven bars; 8.7 for the vault, 7.9 for the balance beam and 9.0 for the floor exercise.

That left the rest of the Bears and Sequoits battling for seconds.

In the all-around, fellow junior Heidi Wirtz was second in 37.1. Lindy Chisamore of the Bears third at 30.9.

Chisamore registered a second in the uneven bars at 8.2. Teammate Jenny Weeks was third.

Allison Krein of Lake Zurich was second with an 8.1 in the vault, Chisamore third.

Wirtz was second in the balance beam with a 7.6. Sara Lutz, a senior, was third at 7.

Wirtz's 8.7 in the floor exercise was good enough for second and Chisamore was third at 8.5.

Antioch closed the regular season at home against Stevenson before the NSC meet at Lake Forest Jan. 29.

Gooch visualizes success for Antioch

Maline Gooch is the first to admit it.

The pressure was on No. 34 as she stepped to the free-throw line with 1:39, then :10 seconds to go at Warren Saturday.

"I was shaking, but you just have to visualize it going through," the senior said.

Gooch made 3-of-4 free throws as part of a 19-point effort and that was enough for Antioch to shock Warren 39-37 in a North Suburban Conference showdown.

The Sequoits, who lost to the Blue Devils in overtime, had to withstand a tip-in by Erin Habegger and a free throw from Janay Hanlin and gain the thriller.

"I think this win will give us a lot of confidence. We really needed. It is a big win for us. We were in a slump. We have not been able to get our shots in. Everyone gave 110 percent," Gooch said.

"We have been talking all year of what this team is capable of doing if they play four solid quarters of basketball. At Fenton we played two, at Zion we played three quarters. This is the first time all year we have played four solid quarters of basketball. I was pleased," Antioch Coach Dave Woods said.

Woods had confidence in Gooch.

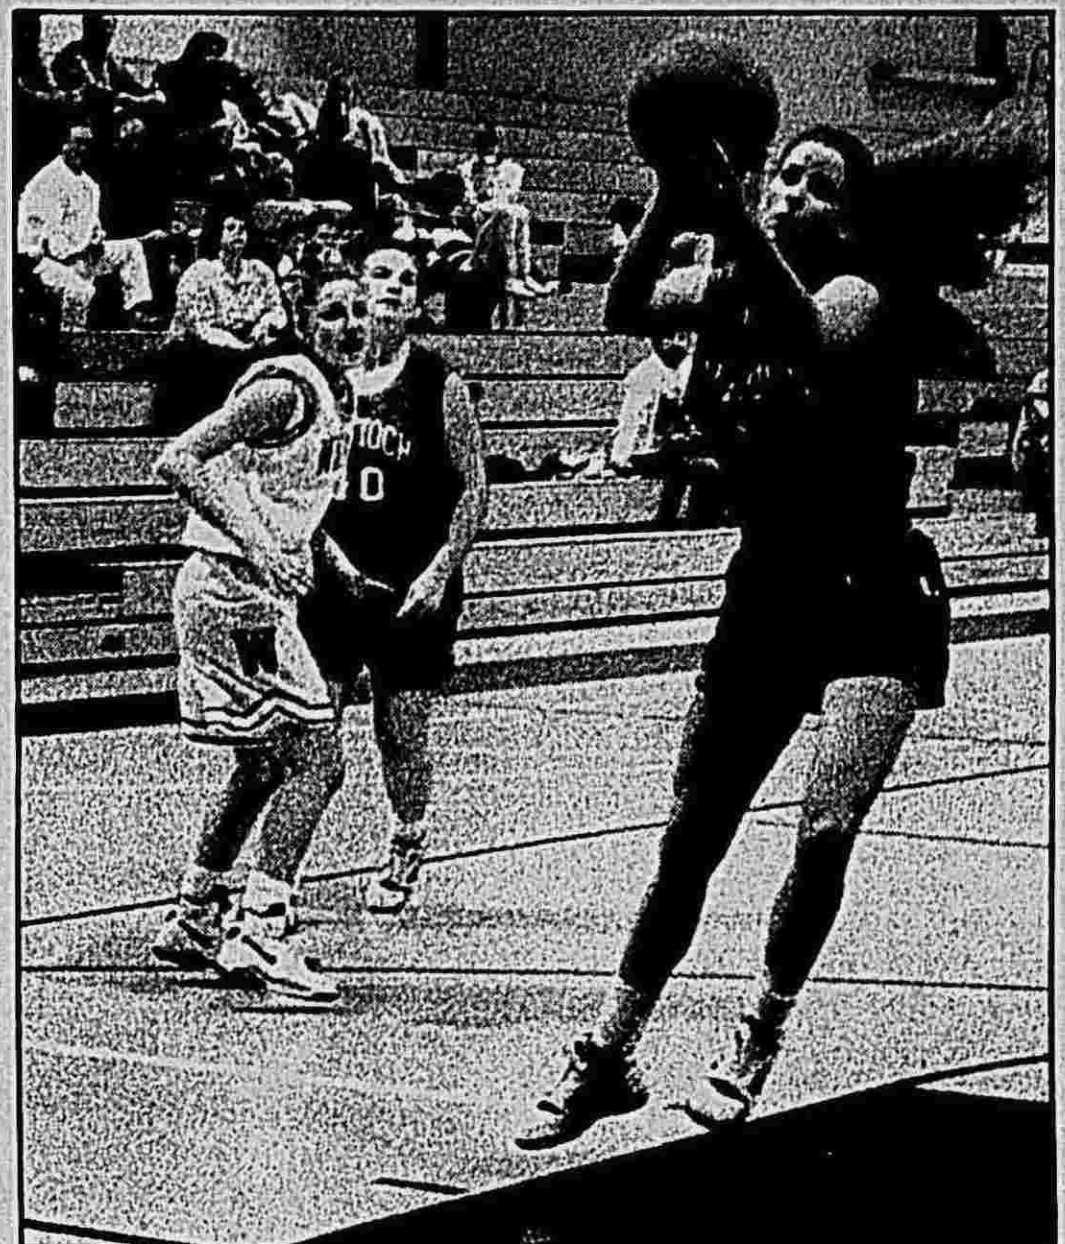

"We wanted the ball in Maline's hands. We wanted her at the line. She is a multi-purpose player," Woods said.

Gooch, whose older brother Doug was one of her early basketball influences, was called upon to in-bound the ball with one second left. After both teams called timeout, Gooch wisely threw the ball three-quarters of the court, preventing any home-team miracles and letting the Antioch celebration begin.

Antioch improved to 7-13, 3-8 NSC with the win. The loss damaged Warren's hopes of challenging Libertyville for second place in the NSC and opened up the third-place race. Warren (7-3 NSC, 14-4 overall) host top-rated Stevenson at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 29. Antioch hosts Lake Forest Feb. 1 at 7 p.m.

Gooch was a marked person against Warren's vaunted zone defenses. Her last field goal came at 2:58 remaining for a 36-31 lead.

"We've worked on that a lot. We stress the longer we can have another team play defense, that is more to our advantage. We want to get a high percentage shot. We work on that a lot in practice. We dictated the tempo of the game. That was one of our goals going in," Woods said.

Antioch's Maline Gooch goes for two more points against Warren. Gooch, a senior, led the way in Antioch's 39-37 win at Warren. Antioch hosts Lake Forest Feb. 1. The win ended Warren's conference title hopes.

Indeed, Warren seemed frustrated by Antioch's clock use. The Sequoits often took 30 seconds off the clock before shooting a five or 10 foot jumper.

"We did not get one basket off the transition," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said.

The county's leading scorer, Minuskin, was held five points below her average, 18.

"We alternated girls on her. If she is forced to play defense, that will frustrate a scorer. Keep the ball out of her hands," Woods said.

Warren knew it had a battle on its hands when Antioch forged a 16-14 lead on an eight-footer by Rachel Hauser (seven points) with 2:20 left in the second quarter. Antioch built a five-point, 29-24 lead, on a three-pointer by Liz Earl (eight points). But Minuskin hit Warren's only field goal of the last four minutes of the first half a 35-foot, dead-eye bank. That kept the home team in the game, down 31-27 after three.

One free throw was all Antioch needed through the fourth quarter's first five minutes. Warren came to within one at 32-31 on a tip-in by Amy Jensen.

Amy Leiber was wide open on the wing for a five-point Antioch lead.

Warren had its chances at the end, but had a 1-for-8 shooting slump.

"We always wanted to have someone in their face. Not giving good look at the basket. We work 70 percent of the time on defense and it helped," Woods said.

The Blue Devils are without guard Lisa Sinnokrak, out with a knee injury.

"Other people are stepping forward. This would have been her type of game, man-to-man, pressure defense," Campbell said.

Antioch had lost 51-34 to Libertyville Thursday. A 16-8 run by the Wildcats in the third extended a lead. Leiber's 12 points led Antioch.

Woods believes real progress is being made.

"The maturity is finally started to come. It is a totally different year from last year. I am a pusher and they had to adjust to that. I'm happy for them. Everyone has pounded on them in the league and Warren eliminated them from the tournament. It was a big game for them," Woods said.

Soph Dyer gives Sequoit wrestlers strong start

Before most Antioch wrestlers take to the mat in a double-dual, they can usually count on at least a few points.

And providing those points is usually Lucas Dyer. Dyer pinned Johnsburg's Randy Vendegna in 5:45, breaking up a 6-6 tie.

"He is a sophomore and when he goes to the mat, it is a big lift for us. It sets the tone for the rest of the way," Antioch Coach Ted Sieckowski said.

The Sequoits hosted Johnsburg and Mundelein but the trip to Antioch proved fruitless for both as Antioch won 49-12 over Johnsburg, 58-5 over Mundelein.

Dyer, whose brother Justin also won vs. Johnsburg, was 17-12 with 11 pins. "And Lucas has to gain weight to get to 103," Sieckowski said.

Also winning by pin over the Skyhawks were: Jason Krause over Derrick Braun in :57 at 130; Jim Stevens over Pete Husby in 1:37 at 140; Mike Shea over Zac Bowgren in 2:46 and Larry Schmidt over Lee McKenzie in :47 at 135.

Antioch, despite being what Sieckowski called "a little banged up" with injuries, improved to 11-7 overall.

Antioch won all but one weight class against Mundelein. Al Castellucci won at 171 pounds for the 24th time in 25 outings for Mundelein.

Krause, James Patterson at 135, Joe Earl and Brian Maicke earned pins.

Decision winners were: Justin Dyer at 112, Matt Heinak at 103; Ben Jainsky at 119 and Steve Zalopi at 125.

Sieckowski noted that the Sequoits play the toughest competition around and then some.

"We go against 8 of the top 10 state ranked teams. That helps us compete against local teams," he said.

Of note: Sieckowski was competing against his alma mater when Antioch battled at Round Lake against Grant Saturday. That meet was a warm-up for the North Suburban Conference meet at Stevenson Jan. 29 at 10 a.m.

Stars defeat Blackmore with 6-4 score

Two undefeated teams went head to head in an early season first-place showdown with the Lindenhurst Stars (U-13) defeating Cary Blackmore 6-4 at Poplar Creek Sports Centre-Hoffman Estates. It was a see-saw battle with each club exchanging goals through the first half. Taking a 4-3 lead into the second half, the Stars used excellent defensive play to limit the Cary attackers to one goal.

Megan Rinkenberger led the way in goal with good defensive help from Becky Sosnowski, Amie Smit, Sarah Rimkus, Natalie Richter, Susan Gosciniak, Mandy Fasano, Katie Gofron, Emmy Kane and Emily Ayre. The leading scorer for the Stars was Amie Carlberg with three goals and one goal each for Samie Korbal, Megs Kotlarz and Amie Smit. The Stars now sit on top the U-14 'B' Division with a 3-0 record.

The Lindenhurst Enigma and Lindenhurst Blitz resume this fall, the Lindenhurst Power and Lindenhurst Lightning start this spring.

Lindenhurst Lightning begins indoor season

The Lindenhurst Lightning U-12 soccer team began its indoor season with a win over Evanston Blue. Defense was the key as Jon Mendelke, Mark Sanderson and Kevin Nelson limited Evanston's chances. Nick Placko played well in the Lindenhurst nets and Quinn Gooch scored first to give the Lightning a 1-0 halftime lead. Josh Boller scored what turned out to be the game winner for Lindenhurst in their 2-1 victory.

In their second game of the season the Lightning fell to the Mundelein Strikers, 4-0. Mundelein got off to a quick start, scoring just one minute into the game. Forwards Keli Owens and Peter Gedvilas worked hard to create scoring chances, but the Lightning wasn't able to find the net.

Best and brightest in village explore visions

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

More than 100 movers and shakers of Mundelein gathered Saturday morning at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary for a brainstorming session to develop strategies on C.A.P.E. (Creating a Positive Environment).

People representing all aspects of life in Mundelein sipped coffee and munched on donuts donated by Quig's as they prepared for the all-day session.

As participants settled at the tables, Mayor Marilyn Sindles brought the meeting to order, challenging residents to form a community partnership.

"Each of you will have a part," she said, "As a result of your efforts today, Mundelein will become a healthier, safer place to live."

Senator Adeline Jay Geo-Karis addressed the assemblage and emphasized, "Our youth are the most important people in the world."

The Honorable Barbara Gilleran-Johnson, listed as a "guest" speaker but a resident of Mundelein herself, envisioned "a whole new world" for the village and urged those attending to be inspired by the faith from "A Field of Dreams."

Properly inspired, the assemblage got to work under the direction of Angela Trillhaase, a Mundelein resident who was serving as facilitator.

"You're going to be exhausted when you leave here," she promised. Her bubbly presence kept the momentum going all day as she kept everyone on task and on schedule.

"What is your vision for Mundelein?" she asked first, instructing all the participants to write down on the cards anything they wanted to see in the village within the next five years.

Goals ranged from "more restaurants" and "a community center" to "senior housing" and "a unified school district." As each table sorted out their priorities, Trillhaase began to organize the responses in preparation for the next workshop.

The resulting categories addressed the issues of a community center, education, village development, senior housing, safe environment, improved transportation, multi-cultural problems, neighborhood development, better parks, a youth center, image development, family programs and social services.

Before breaking for lunch, the groups were scrambled so each participant landed at a different table. Then, full of Brown's chicken and inspired with visions, everyone began to address the obstacles, instructed by Trillhaase to write down five hurdles affecting the issues assigned to their table.

Then it was time to formulate an action plan. Participants selected the issue they wished to work on and moved to yet another table. That arrangement landed Police Commander Patrick Pender to the group concerned with public safety.

"We discussed security and how we were going to deal with gangs," he said.

Pender reported that the excess food from lunch was taken to needy families in Whitehall Manor.

Each new group got down to business, putting together a plan to get one year closer to the five-year goals.

"The action plans were great," said Trillhaase. "They're not trying to do too much. The social services people have already scheduled a meeting in February."

Debbie Miller, president of the Mundelein Women's League, was in that group.

"I really enjoyed the movement and talking to people," she said. "There's not enough networking in Mundelein."

The group plans to participate in a village survey to find out what residents think of the social services that are available.

"It went so fast," she added. "Everyone left with pretty positive feelings."

Village Administrator Ken Marabella was at the table wrestling with the issues of Mundelein's multi-cultural society. They also have planned their next meeting. The group definitely wants to include the Hispanic population in the 4th of July celebration.

"I thought it was an outstanding exercise, well worth all the time and effort that went into the planning," he said. "Participation was very enthusiastic and very positive. We came up with some very good ideas."

Mayor Sindles was encouraged by the response. Rather than join a specific table, she walked around to get a feel for what the groups were doing.

Village Clerk Collen Kasting noted the different perspectives offered from the various representatives.

Rev. Ken Press of the Community Protestant Church pointed out that "many times in gatherings like this the process can be manipulative with predetermined results of the organizers" but in this case "the process really opened up to the participants their setting the agenda and goals" even though it possibly came out differently than planners had anticipated.

The hundreds of cards with all the suggestions and ideas will be documented, said Trillhaase. Once the action groups are completely organized, their meetings and goals will be publicized. Interested citizens who wish to become involved in making Mundelein a better place to live, work and play may contact the village hall, 949-3200, Chief Raymond Rose, 949-3258, or Angela Trillhaase, 566-1407.

Gurnee trustees OK heliport

A Gurnee businessman may use his business for landings and take-offs of his helicopter.

Gurnee Village Board members granted a special use permit request by Esper Peterson of Nordic Properties.

Peterson told trustees the heliport is four miles away from Waukegan's airport, three miles from Victory Memorial Hospital's heliport and 1.5 miles from St. Therese Medical Center's heliport.

"It will be a safe site and I will use it to go to job sites," Peterson said.

Park City officials requested a hearing before the FAA. That hearing, yet to be scheduled, will concern itself with safety issues.

Park City Mayor Rob Allen and aldermen attended a plan commission meeting, giving concerns for a nearby mobile home park.

Peterson may use the heliport unrestricted for 30 times in 90 days. A restricted landing area designation allows 50 operations a year.

The helicopter, presently based in Waukegan, is an Enstrom 280 FX. Hours of operation will be 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. FAA and IDOT approval is required for the restricted landing area.

Plan commission chairman Don Rudny voted against the heliport, citing need. According to a memo from planner Tracy Einspanjer, need is up to the petitioner.—by STEVE PETERSON

Wauconda senior housing on ballot

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Wauconda Township board members unanimously approved putting the question of building a senior housing complex to voters in the March primary election.

Township voters will be asked to approve a $9 million bond issue for the complex, which would be built near Wauconda High School on Minerva Avenue.

James P. Keagle, township supervisor, said the complex would be paid for solely from funds derived from residents living at the complex, which will have between 50 and 80 one and two-bedroom apartments, with rents varying from $600 to $800 per month, based upon construction costs in Lake County.

If approved, the complex would not result in any new real estate taxes to voters, as income generated from the residents will go towards retiring the bonds, and would be used to operate the complex thereafter.

The Township Senior Citizens Housing Act approved by the Illinois Legislature in 1992 allows the revenues from the complex to retire the bonds.

If approved, the township would have to prove generated income after operational costs would exceed the annual bond payments by 25 percent.

Township officials first looked into the proposal after hearing from older residents who said the township did not offer enough housing opportunities for them, forcing them to leave.

Keagle had said the complex would allow senior citizens to stay in the area while opening up housing opportunities for young families looking for lower priced homes.

Residents leery of developer's proposal

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Not enough chairs were available in the village hall for the 50 residents objecting to a proposed townhome development on a parcel where they fear extended flooding.

Slocum Lake area community members who live in either Williams Park or Mylith Park just outside of Island Lake have had their share of bailing out water from their homes on many occasions.

Enough times in fact, said resident Cheryl Sell, that many of her neighbors have had to apply for federal flood grant assistance. "We're not talking about cosmetic flooding here. We're talking about water in homes up to people's knees," said Sell.

According to the reproach of the people, Anthony Pasquinelli's proposal, "Clearwater Oaks" condominium-type townhouse project on a parcel adjacent to Slocum Lake, will be just another floodgate.

A project to the north of the site, Westridge townhomes, has caused homeowners more flooding problems than what they had before, when it was built a few years ago, according to residents.

Now the only piece of land left, next to the lake will make their homes look like sunken treasures, claim community members.

Pasquinelli and his attorney,

Mark Burkland stated their desires at the zoning hearing in Island Lake in which they asked to be granted a variance for the R-5 zoning described as density so that the townhomes can be built.

The board approved the request to prepare a draft of the zoning variations, and also approved a setback variance for the condos, but the official rezoning will not be approved until after the February board meeting, said Village Attorney David LaSeur.

Next on the agenda for the developers will be a planning board review for the plat approval.

Fox Lake marina owner 'devastated' by lawsuit

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

The owners of the Fox Lake Harbor Marina were surprised when they were slapped with a civil complaint from the U.S. attorney's office in the Northern District of Illinois.

United States Attorney James B. Burns, and Lt. Col. David M. Reed of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers filed the complaint Jan. 14, alleging violations of the Rivers and Harbors Act and the Clean Water Act stemming from allegations that the defendants, did not obtain proper permits and approval from the Army Corps before several projects were conducted.

John Moulis, one of the owners of the 42-year-old business, said that he was "shocked by the fact that the lawsuit was ever filed. We're not maliciously tearing down wetlands," argued Moulis. "This is a devastating blow to us."

In fact, the marina owner said that he and his company on Grand Ave. is all for protecting wildlife, flora and fauna on the Chain O' Lakes, and are every bit in support of the waterway agency, and up and coming referendum to keep it alive.

In the suit, allegations such as Moulis being responsible for dredging in the lake in back of his business and dumping the silt onto an adjacent wetland, and shores was stated.

The suit also alleges that the Fox Lake Harbor put in piers without a permit, one extending far out into the lake which blocks the channel, said James Kuhn, one of the assistant U.S. attorney's handling the case. Kuhn said that investigations began in May and June of 1992. The complainant is seeking that the piers be removed from the channel and that the channel and wetlands be restored to their original state, Kuhn explained.

According to the U.S. Department of Justice, the complainant is also applying civil penalties of up to $25,000 per day for each violation.

"People like ourselves are just trying to stay in business. We paid tax on the all that property for ages," the longtime business owner explained.

Moulis said that without the dredging that was done, boaters couldn't get into the channel. "To stay in business we have to have the channel open."

The marina operator stressed,

"We didn't walk in here and start digging holes." The channel has only been in place since the 1950s or 1960s, Moulis said, and the mouth of the channel was only what was dredged—about 50 feet.

The reason for the dredging is to keep people from damaging their propellers when they go out into the Chain, explained Moulis who described his predicament as "a catch 22 position."

A meeting with the Chain O'

Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency will take place as soon as possible, according to Moulis.

In the meantime, the Army Corps may proceed with litigation, said Kuhn.

Illinois state law stiffer than Brady Act

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Lake County residents who want to buy firearms will not be affected by the Brady Handgun Prevention Act signed by President Clinton last December, rather they face, what some call, a more stringent Illinois law.

According to the Brady Act, consumers wishing to purchase a firearm must wait five days while local police officials do a background check on the person's criminal and mental history.

Under Illinois law, a person must petition for a Firearms Owners Identification (FOID) card, which can take up to 30 days to receive while the Illinois State Police does a background check on the applicant.

Once the applicant receives a FOID card, there is a three-day waiting period before the applicant can purchase a firearm. The FOID card is valid for five years. After that time, it must be renewed.

The Brady Act does not affect Illinois, but the national policy would affect those states that do not have waiting periods.

One Lake County gun collector and sportsman said the Illinois law did not prohibit him from making his gun purchase, but he said it could prevent those who may need a gun more quickly.

"My need for ownership was not immediate," said Chris Twardy of Lake Villa. "What about those wives whose lives are threatened by their husbands."

"What other constitutional right is there that you have to wait six weeks to exercise," said Twardy, a 28-year-old who has been collecting guns for the past 10 years and honing his skills as a marksman at local gun ranges.

Lake County Congressmen split their votes on the Brady Act, while Sens. Paul Simon and Carol Moseley-Braun voted in favor of the bill.

Child victim of shaken baby syndrome

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

A Wildwood man is being charged with the murder of 4-month-old Kelley Jackson. Sheriff Clint Grinnell reports the arrest of Jason A. Rushbrook, age 21, of first degree murder.

The baby girl died at 5 p.m. on Jan. 19 at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin, after being transported from Condell Hospital in Libertyville due to the critical condition of the child.

The criminal investigation was initiated by a report from Children's Hospital indicating suspected child abuse. Interviews were conducted with the victim's 22 year-old mother and Rushbrook.

Rushbrook, a live-in boyfriend, had been babysitting the child while the mother was at work. Rushbrook is accused of shaking the baby so hard she suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. According to Lt. Chester Iwan of the Criminal Investigations Division, Rushbrook ran to get the mother after the incident because there was no phone at the residence.

When asked when length of time it took for the child to be brought into the hospital, Iwan admitted there was some delay.

"There was a four hour gap before medical attention was sought," said Iwan. "The child was then taken to the hospital and was in a comatose state upon arrival."

An autopsy was performed by the Milwaukee County Medical Examiner the morning of Jan. 20. The medical examiner listed the cause of death to be a severe cerebral hemorrhage due to violent shaking.

Based on the evidence and interviews conducted during the course of the investigation, the State's Attorney Michael Waller approved the issuance of an arrest warrant charging Rushbrook with one count of first degree murder. Rushbrook was taken into custody on Jan. 20 at approximately 5 p.m.

Snowmobile death ruled accidental

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

More details concerning a fatal snowmobile accident in unincorporated McHenry County reveal a sad turn-of-events for one teenager and a man trying to ward-off snowmobilers from his property.

Timothy R. Moon, 17, of McHenry, was killed Jan. 17 when he was flipped off the snowmobile by a rope hung across the property at 2439 S. River Rd. at 1:55 p.m. Moon was going at a high rate of speed, and the yellow rope with pink streamers broke his neck.

He had been traveling along Griswald Lake on the snowmobile he had borrowed from a neighbor before jutting over to the private property adjacent to the lake.

Ironically, he was going to that particular home to pick up a date for a snowmobile ride.

Greg Smith, the homeowner, apparently grew tired of snowmobilers driving through his property, which three or four years ago had been a vacant lot used by snowmobile riders, and put the rope up to block their path.

McHenry County Sheriff's officials ruled the case as an accidental death, saying the rope was clearly on Smith's property.

Moon was pronounced dead at Northern Illinois Medical Center.

Edison sets winter record

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

For two nights in a row last week, Commonwealth Edison's 3.3 million customers throughout Northern Illinois have been using record-breaking amounts of electricity. As residents attempt to cope with the below freezing temperatures, the company set a new winter peak demand record of 14,179 megawatts. The new record was achieved Tuesday, Jan. 18 between 6 and 7 p.m.

Not surprising, the second and third highest peaks were also achieved Jan. 18 between the hours of 5 and 6 p.m. and 11 a.m. and noon. Even more amazing these records beat the prior record achieved on Monday, Jan. 17.

To stay prepared for possible life-threatening temperatures, Edison maintained several hundred emergency personnel on the streets round-the-clock to cope with potential outages. Since Jan. 13, Edison has been operating under their Weather Alert Reliability Program (WARP). The WARP program includes an increased crew presence on the streets and continual checks of the company's operating equipment to ensure it is in working order.

While the Arctic weather has an impact on Edison systems, their goal is to provide reliable service and efficient power 24 hours a day. Any Edison customer who does experience an interruption can call 1-800-EDISON-1.

Toddler dies after falling

GURNEE—A Lake County Sheriff's Dept. investigation into the death of an 18-month-old child was inconclusive. The toddler, Joseph Clanton, was pronounced dead at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin Sunday.

Response times to decline

NORTH BARRINGTON—Although there are no signs declaring the building at Route 22 and Hidden Oaks Lane in North Barrington as a fire station, it was opened earlier this week by the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection District to primarily serve that area and cut down on response times. Construction on the 8,000 square-foot station on Route 22 and Hidden Oaks Lane begun last summer was completed Jan. 21, and the station was ready to accept calls Monday morning at 7 a.m., said Lake Zurich Fire Captain David Wheelock, with just a few minor details yet to complete. North Barrington issued the fire district a temporary occupancy permit on Jan. 20 after having approved a resolution during a meeting the previous evening stating the district needed to meet several conditions, including possible modifications to a berm on the east side of the property and the installation of yellow flashing warning lights.

Chief on leave talks

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Police Chief Richard Jablonski issued a statement saying he welcomes an investigation by the States Attorney's Office into allegations made against him by the Fraternal Order of Police. Jablonski said the allegations surfaced after the officers refused random drug testing. David Hare, FOP President confirmed officers have been interviewed by the States Attorney's Office. The union had requested an investigation be done by an independent prosecutor.

Village looks to monitor rates

LINDENHURST—The village board directed their Village Administrator James Stevens to start the paperwork necessary for the village to become its own regulating authority. The village needs approval from the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). The village is part of an eight-village consortium seeking to pick up regulating authority and have more control of rate structures.

Budget hearing requested

LAKE VILLA TOWNSHIP—Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling is asking for a budget hearing. He said he needs the funds to insure his department has money to last until the end of the fiscal year. The hearing is set for Feb. 22. He is calling for an additional $25,000 in funds. Township Supervisor Sue Hanson said Semmerling has the money with line-item transfers to make it to the next fiscal year.

Marks heads LMV chamber

LIBERTYVILLE—Edie Marks of Libertyville has been elected president of the Libertyville-Mundelein-Vernon Hills Chamber of Commerce. Beginning her fourth year as a Chamber member, Marks has already made an impression as a driving force by serving as chair of several committees and generally becoming involved in "whatever's going on." She plans to focus on assisting area businesses and exploring the healthcare issue.

Project CAPE produces action

MUNDELEIN—More than 100 movers and shakers of Mundelein gathered Saturday morning at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary for a brain-storming session to develop strategies on C.A.P.E. Committees have been set up to work on the action plans.

Woman commits suicide

ROUND LAKE BEACH—A Lake Forest waitress was found dead at an East End Street home in Round Lake Beach, after she reportedly committed suicide. Therese Citti, 30, was found in her sisters garage after she placed a hose in the exhaust of a car while it was running Jan. 20. Round Lake Beach police said the woman left a note which gave no indication why she was going to kill herself. According to Sgt. Dave Ostertag, the woman was not in any apparent financial straits or suffering any kind of domestic distress as a possible cause for the suicide.

Show picks on pageant

WAUCONDA—The Miss Wauconda Pageant received national attention on "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno" last week in a quirky sort of way. Apparently, someone sent the television show a picture that appeared in a daily newspaper, showing two contestants adjusting their gowns and getting ready for the pageant while standing in front of two urinals in the mens locker at the Wauconda Community Center, 600 N. Main St., where the pageant was held. "At least it got Wauconda recognized through national TV," said Vicki Laureys, director of the Wauconda Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the pageant.

Noyes receives support

VERNON HILLS—District 73 Superintendent Edward Noyes pleaded guilty to charges of driving under the influence and leaving the scene of accident on Dec. 30. He was fined $650 and must complete 25 hours of community service. He will lose his driver's license for at least 90 days and will be under court supervision for one year. ## Brady Act

Rep. John Porter, R-Waukegan, joined other Republicans who were originally opposed to the legislation, but voted in favor of the Brady Act last year.

"The Brady Bill is not the solution to our crime problem, but it helps because it makes it difficult for criminals to purchase guns through legitimate dealers," said Dave Kohn, press secretary for Porter.

Kohn said Porter, a gun owner himself, joined other Republicans in favor of the bill because of the growing support police officials demonstrated in favor of the bill.

"The thing that turned the tide was the local and county police departments coming to Washington," said Kohn. "Uniformed police officers were standing on the Capitol steps handing out leaflets in favor of the bill."

Rep. Philip Crane, R-Lake Villa, voted against the Brady Bill but is in favor of stricter laws that keep criminals off the streets.

"The people who are doing the violent crimes are the repeat offenders," said Kirt Johnson, campaign manager for Crane. "You can't let these people serve a quarter or a third of their sentence."

Crane, instead, is calling for, said Johnson, mandatory minimum sentencing, life sentencing for those who have committed three violent felonies and the building of more prisons.

"Criminals will always get guns," Johnson said. "The only way to protect the public is to lock them up and throw away the key."

Collect Campbell labels for YWCA child care center equipment

Thanks to Campbell's Labels for Education Program, the YWCA can obtain much-needed educational equipment free of charge, but they need help again. The program, sponsored by Campbell Soup Company, is actually very simple. They will be collecting labels or UPC symbols from the following products:

Campbell's Condensed Soups, Campbell's Chunky Soups, Campbell Health Request Soups, Campbell's Home Cookin' Soups, Campbell's and Campbell's Cup Dry Soups, Campbell's Bean products, Campbell's Tomato Juice, Franco-American Pasta and Gravy, Le Menu Frozen Dinners, Marie's Dressings, Dips and Glazes, Mrs. Paul's Frozen Foods, Open Pit Barbecue Sauce, Pepperidge Farm Breads, cookies, crackers, cakes, frozen foods, stuffing and gravy, Prego and Campbell's Health Request Spaghetti Sauces, Sanwa Dry

Soups, Swanson Canned and Frozen Foods, Swanson Great Starts Breakfasts, V8 100 percent Vegetable Juice and Lite 'N Tany V8 Vegetable Juice, Vlasic Products, Early California Olives, Casera Canned and Frozen Foods, Caserita Frozen Foods and Betis Olive Oil.

Out goal is to collect 25,000 labels. Campbell Soup Company will provide the equipment we choose when we redeem the labels at the end of the program. This year they're working toward obtaining School Age Equipment. Because so many families use Campbell products, they're asking everyone to help by saving the labels. Drop them off at the center during regular hours or mail them to the YWCA of Northeastern Illinois, 2133 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan, Ill. 60085. Campbell's Labels for Education Program has been helping centers like this for 20 years.

Insurance hotline good source

Anyone with questions about insurance can take advantage of the state's toll-free hotline number to get help, said State Senator Bill Peterson.

The hotline is staffed by people who have years of professional experience working with many different kinds of insurance, said Peterson. He said that they can answer questions about health coverage, car insurance and even flood insurance.

"The insurance hotline is a wonderful place to turn to when you are confused," according to Peterson. "While the staff won't make recommendations about a particular company, they can give rating information and send brochures free of charge. Then sit down, go over the information, and make an informed decision."

The hotline operates from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at (800)444-3338. About 1,000 people use the hotline each month, with questions ranging from how to purchase flood insurance to finding health care coverage after being laid off, said Peterson. No insurance is sold over the hotline, nor are any companies or agents endorsed, according to Senator Peterson.

The hotline is sponsored by the Illinois Insurance Information Service.

Violence prevention workshop planned

Last summer Gov. Edgar mandated that schools must provide violence prevention to students in grades four through high school but did not allocate any funds to do so. The Regional Superintendent of Schools Edward Gonwa, and his internal agency which serves at-risk students, Project PASS, (also known as the Lake County Center for Dropout Prevention) is sponsoring a workshop for school personnel about the cause of violence and strategies to combat it. Two proven curriculums will also be introduced and previewed.

Dr. Steven Julius, a psychologist and partner in Lake-Cook Psychologists, will make a presentation regarding the dynamics of violence and the implications to schools of increased violence among its students. Project PASS staff will then discuss Second STEP, a violence prevention curriculum developed by the Committee for Children in Seattle and targeted at children from early childhood through grade eight. Another curriculum developed by a Harvard doctor, Deborah Prothrow-Smith, intended for high school aged students, will also be previewed.

The workshop will take place Friday, Jan. 28 from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the College of Lake County, Room C003. The cost is $25. To register call Jan. Howes at 223-3400, ext. 223.

'Are You OK?' program begins in Lake County

Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell announced the start of a new program focused towards the homebound senior and physically challenged citizens in both unincorporated (county patrolled) and incorporated (city patrolled) areas of Lake County.

Named the "Are You OK?" telephone reassurance system, the program fills a void which prior to this has been of great concern to all public service agencies. That void is the ability to check on the well being of homebound citizens, living alone, who for one reason or another are unable to leave their residence due to an infirmity. Grinnell explained that occasionally calls are received about a person who has not been seen or heard from by neighbors or relatives for an unusual period of time. These calls are always the type that are not desired by the responding officer as he never knows what he will find.

A silent wish or prayer is uttered that the officer will find the person has left on vacation or has had telephone problems. All too often, however, police find tragedy. Death permeates the lonely atmosphere of solitary living. Grinnell added, "Some of our investigations into these sad occurrences revealed that the person has suffered for hours or days and that if someone would have only checked on them they could have been saved."

The "Are You OK?" program is a computer-based telephone system that telephones living alone, infirm seniors or physically challenged adults at a pre-determined time each day. The voice of the computer announces, upon the party's answer, "This is the Lake County Sheriff's 'Are You OK?' telephone reassurance system. If you are OK, please hang up the phone now and have a good day. If there is a problem, stay on the line and Sheriff's personnel will be with you immediately." If the person hangs up the telephone it is assumed that all is well.

However, if the person stays on the line, an alarm sounds and a Sheriff's employee makes personal contact with the party. Simultaneously, vital information such as the person's name, address, doctor, medical history, next of kin, and emergency contacts appear on the computer screen so that anything needed to assist this citizen is close at hand. If the telephone is not answered, the computer automatically recalls the party every three minutes for five times, when an alarm is sounded and the alert screen appears on the monitor allowing for appropriate action to be taken.

Grinnell stated that the equipment for the program was donated by Dan Bitton of DB Aviation, 3800 N. McAree Rd., Waukegan and will function as part of the Community Services Division of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. He added that their focus at this time is to identify those persons within the county in need of the service. Contacts are being made with all township supervisors, senior citizen groups and social service agencies throughout the county for this purpose, as well as requests to the media resources to assist them by frequently publishing information about the program in an effort to contact these people.

As names are received, Sheriff's personnel will personally interview those in need and enter them into the program. Expected start date is March 1. For further information or to sign up for the no cost, no fee program, contact may be made to the Community Services Division of the Lake County Sheriff's Office at 360-5830, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

In conclusion, Grinnell related, "Elderly or disabled citizens can feel safer and more secure knowing that they can depend on a daily telephone call to confirm all is well or, if they are experiencing an emergency, to summon help."

Former ally challenges Crane

Kevin Hanrahan
Staff Reporter

In an open conversation with members of Lakeland Newspaper, State Sen. Peter Fitzgerald, R-Palatine, discussed his plans to run against longtime Congressman Philip Crane, R-Lake Villa.

Fitzgerald said he is vying for the 10th congressional seat during the Republican primaries next spring because Crane has "lost the fire in his belly."

Crane has been a member of Congress for 25 years.

"We don't need a Congressman who votes right. We need a Congressman who leads," said Fitzgerald, accusing Crane of not bringing about conservative counter proposals in Congress.

Fitzgerald, a longtime Crane supporter, said Crane has not been a congressional player in recent years, rather he has become a part of the "imperial Congress."

For many years, Fitzgerald actively worked in support of Crane's campaigns and has developed a strong personal relationship with the Congressman.

In fact, Crane in 1979 asked Fitzgerald, who was attending Dartmouth University in New Hampshire, to set up his presidential campaign platform there for the New Hampshire primaries.

"I like Phil personally," said Fitzgerald. "It takes some courage to stand up to a friend."

As a congressman, Fitzgerald said he would focus on reducing the federal deficit, reforming the "imperial" Congress and protecting the environment.

On other issues, Fitzgerald said he favored the North American Free Trade Agreement, supported the Brady Bill and supports a free-market oriented health care system.

On crime, Fitzgerald said he supports a mandatory life sentence for people who have committed three violent felonies and would push for more prisons. He said he is looking into the possibility of converting recently closed military bases into prisons.

"We need to take the hard-core criminals off the streets," Fitzgerald said.

The 33-year-old freshman state senator insisted that he would bring "the best of Phil Crane with a whole lot more vigor, aggressiveness and industry."

Red Cross answers 'Schindler's List' questions

The critically acclaimed film "Schindler's List" may stir memories of relatives who were lost to the Holocaust. For those who still have unanswered questions about the fate of loved ones, the American Red Cross Holocaust and War Victims Tracing Program could alleviate their emotional and spiritual distress by providing information regarding the status of family members persecuted by the Third Reich.

The film tells the story of Oskar Schindler, a German industrialist who rescued more than a thousand Jewish workers from Nazi death camps. At theaters where the film is playing, the Red Cross is distributing literature about its Holocaust and War Victims Tracing Service.

Since 1990, the Red Cross has been providing tracing services, certification service and information regarding the status of missing loved ones to survivors of the Holocaust and families of the victims of the Third Reich who live in the United States.

The information is obtained from classified and preserved documents from a variety of sources, including lists from German government offices, confiscated files from concentration camps, hospital records, files from forced labor camps and lists from major industrial firms. There is no fee to use this service.

The Red Cross has processed 10,000 tracing requests since 1990; 400 of those have come from the Chicago area. To date, 138 families nationwide have learned the fate of loved ones; 47 of those families—including one family from the Chicago area—have found living relatives.

To make a tracing inquiry, interested individuals should contact their local Red Cross or call (312)440-2000.

Home buyers take safety first stance

New crime statistics ranking the safest cities in Illinois serves to dramatize the importance the public focuses these days on selecting a place to live.

There was a time when the quality of education, variety of local houses of worship, availability of basic shopping services, and affordable housing were uppermost in peoples' minds. A low crime rate—safety—was taken for granted.

Not anymore. Safety now is a prime consideration, probably the No. 1 criteria for many persons. Price of housing is either first or second. Schools and churches have dropped a few pegs. With the advent of the mega malls, existence of quality main street retail shops and services has become a fringe benefit.

It comes as no surprise that Lake Forest came out No. 1 in a ranking of safest cities made by the Illinois State Police using a fewest per-capita crimes formula. Lake Forest also is one of the most expensive places to live in Illinois and the city also spends a disproportionately large amount of its budget for police protection.

It was interesting, though, when asked to what was attributable for the low crime rating, Acting Plice Chief Gary Wiczorek replied, "citizen involvement." Wiczorek pointed out that "community policing"—citizen participation in law enforcement—is a well ingrained trait in Lake Forest.

Lake Forest may have the resources to pay higher police salaries, employ more law enforcement officers and equip them with the latest technology, but money alone can't buy citizen support and participation in making a community safer. Every town can achieve a safer environment at little or no expense. Residents have to want to make their hometown safer. Individual desire is the key. How does our community rate?

Income tax plan only a starter

Perhaps with little or nothing to lose, state Comptroller Dawn Clark Netsch is basing her bid for the Democratic nomination for governor on the premise that the Illinois income tax should be raised to provide new public school funding. In return for the income tax hike, Netsch would trade for property tax relief.

If nothing else, Netsch's bold call for a tax increase is bringing the income tax swap for lower property taxes debate into the open, something no political leader in either party has dared since the late Republican Gov. Richard Ogilvie doomed himself to one term by supporting an income tax hike to bail out a state treasury on the verge of bankruptcy more than 20 years ago.

Political know-it-alls call the Netsch position a "gamble." Not so. The tax hike strategy suits the veteran Democrat's "tell it like it is" style. Moreover, we believe Netsch understands that Illinois voters are more ready for the income tax "fix" for the never-ending struggle over school funding than professional politicians believe they are.

Democratic leaders in Illinois long have shied away from the income tax answer to school funding woes because it goes against their basic "soak the rich" philosophy. Republican leaders are timid about trading an income tax hike for property tax relief because they can't forget Gov. Ogilvie. Any kind of new tax plans flies in the face of their anti-tax constituency. Also, they are adamant about "creating" more money for education until real reform of the rotten Chicago Public School system can be guaranteed.

If the Chicago Teachers Union can be brought to heel and a meaningful trade for property tax relief be exacted, we believe Republican leaders will be willing to take a hard look at the Netsch proposal.

As a numbers person and a straight-talker, Netsch has laid out the figures to make the $2.5 billion income tax hike work out. Basically, her plan calls for raising the individual rate from 3 to 4.25 percent and increasing the corporate rate from 4.8 to 6.8 percent. Netsch wants a $1 billion reduction in property tax levies that equates to a reduction of 10 cents on each dollar in property tax paid.

The real test of Netsch's political courage is if she follows up with not a call, but a demand for reform in the way the Chicago public schools are operated. Unless Netsch couples her tax plan with overhaul of the incestuous relationship between the CTU and the Democratic party, the proposal is only so much campaign blather.

LETTERS TO THE Editor

Too tall building

Editor:

Many homeowners are voicing legitimate concerns involving the three story office complex about to encroach our subdivision.

This building will stand in place of two residential homes and will now be the tallest building in Mundelein. With the 129 car parking lot entering and exiting from our quiet roadway, we are told that our concerns had been addressed, only minutes later the building, complete with variances was voted in 5 to 1.

The three story building will stand 44 ft. tall, but we are told a six foot fence will conceal the view of this eyecore; twenty feet from a residential home.

People are tired of the unnec-

Viewpoint

Casino Boats a'comin'

Bill Schroeder

Publisher

Old Waukegan vs. county wounds are being opened in the battle for two new riverboat casino gambling licenses.

Atty. Glenn Seidenfeld, organizer of the Fox Lake Riverboat Partners, privately concedes that Waukegan has a lock on a license because promoter Richard Stein's personal attorney is House Speaker Mike Madigan. A deal has been cut that Stein's license will be an automatic once Gov. Jim Edgar and Mayor Richard Daley agree on licenses for Chicago.

"We've always taken the position that Lake County should receive two licenses so we have no problem with Waukegan getting a boat," observes Seidenfeld, who already has struck out on Fox River sites near Barrington and west of Antioch.

A late push from North Chicago for a license of its own has put a new spin on bidding for new licenses that will be created by the General Assembly this spring. Predictions are that the North Chicago bid won't get too far, mainly because of the late start and the fact that the Waukegan promoters already have outlined a revenue sharing proposal where North Chicago will get a cut for its financially troubled schools.

Seidenfeld and his associates like the Fox Lake location because it fits their mode for economic development and has a friendly local government. Mayor Kenneth Hamsher and the village board are ready to deanex enough territory so that the boat can be floated in unincorporated territory. Creating a "doughnut hole" in the village will enable the county to support the casino boat and share in gambling taxes.

The Fox Lake boat is being pitched now as a tourist attraction and entertainment, catering heavily to senior citizens and DINKs (double income, no kids couples). These people can afford to spend the average $50 to $70 per person needed to cover wagering losses for a casino boat trip. Some fun!

This equates to good seats at the theater or Bulls tickets. "We're in the entertainment business. The legality or morality of gambling is totally irrelevant," remarks the attorney whose father once was a prominent Lake County judge.

Fred Foreman of Gurnee, former U.S. attorney for Northern Illinois and ex-state's attorney of Lake County, substantiates the legitimacy of riverboat casinos in his role as legal counsel for the partnership. Because the riverboat casinos are so highly regulated and because operators are highly security conscious, there is absolutely no criminal element around the boats, Foreman stated flatly.

Popularity with the public notwithstanding, casino boats also are wildly popular with politicians because of their revenue generating capabilities. Gurnee Mills produces approximately $20 million in sales tax revenue annually. One casino boat, according to Seidenfeld, produces $35 million a year all by itself.

Out of a sense of fairness and equity, State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) is going all out for two licenses for Lake County.

Geo-Karis reasons that if Will and Kane counties can have two each, Lake County ought to be entitled to two.

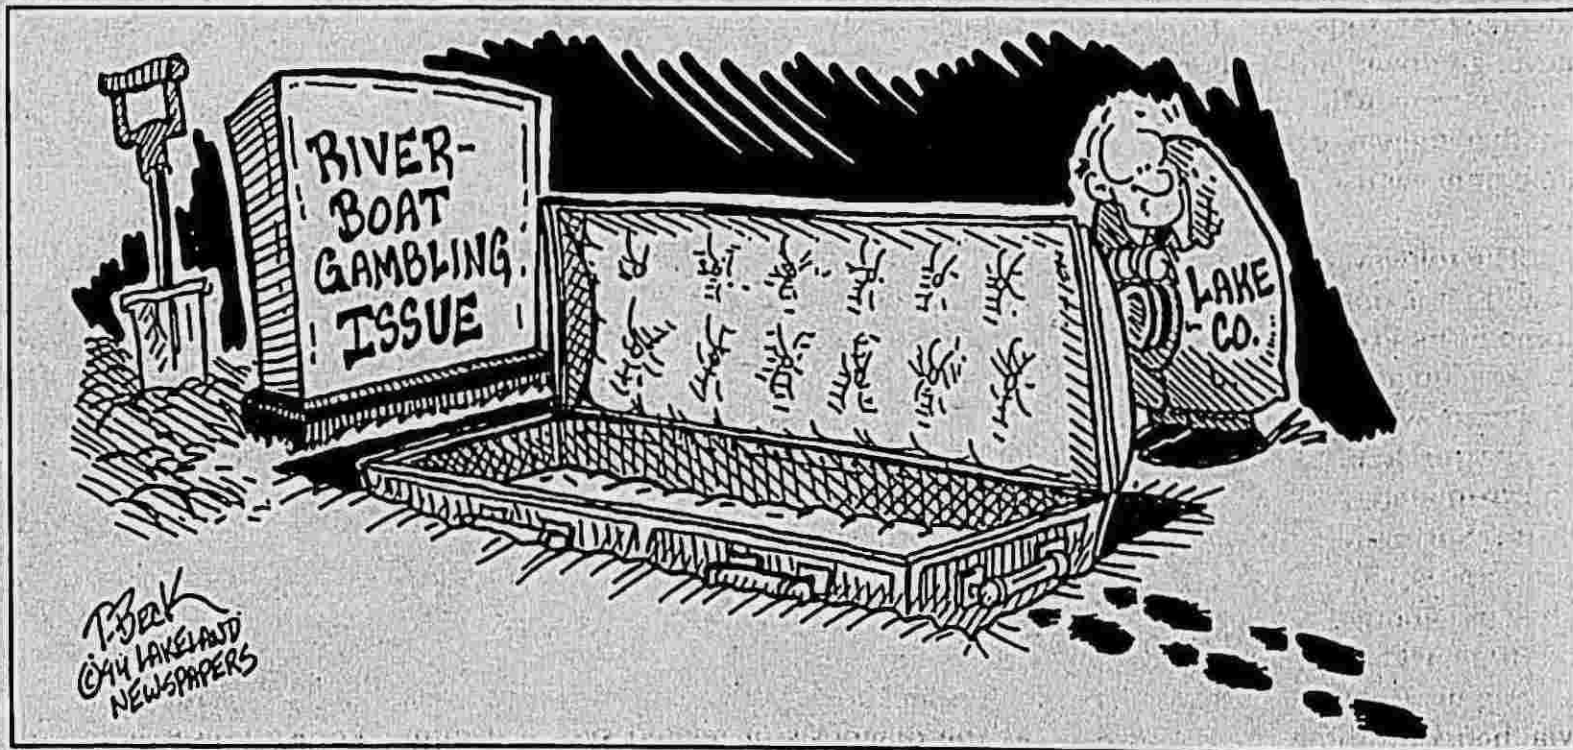

Seidenfeld and his associates make a warm and compelling argument for casino boats on the basis of entertainment and economic enhancement. Since Waukegan and Fox Lake are pretty far down on the economic scale, they argue that the two communities would be ideal recipients of two of the new round of licenses certain to be created in Springfield.

Yet when the fact is factored in that consummate deal maker Mayor Donald Stephens of Rosemont is getting in line for a casino boat and village officials of Western Springs are among others lining up support for riverboat casino licenses, you can't help but get a bit cynical about the whole process. The closest bodies of water to Rosemont and West Springs are local swimming pools.

Still, Fox Lake and Waukegan have enough water around to float a boat, even if the modern day Waukegan River, mostly underground now due to development over the years, has only about 200 feet exposed.

So, we've got the need, the water and presumably, a sufficient supply of fun seekers to make the process handsomely profitable. No, make that obscenely profitable. Cast off for more casino boats!

PARTY LINES

Schulien not coy about chairmanship

Dr. John Schulien, a Libertyville dentist with offices in Vernon Hills and North Chicago, is not playing coy about his desire to be elected Lake County Republican chairman.

"Yes, I'd like to be chairman. I have no agenda other than broadening the base of the Republican party and keeping the party open for all to participate," remarked Schulien, who now represents his hometown on the Lake County Board.

Schulien got his start in politics running for the Libertyville village board and losing. Looking back, he said that was a good way to get started. "Losing gives you a perspective you never forget." He made a second try and was successful.

The non-paid party post, to be filled after the March 15 primary by a vote of newly elected precinct committee persons, is opening because State Rep.

Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) chose not to run again. Churchill is in his second term in the influential position.

Has an "angle"—Atty. Peter Karlovics of Gurnee has an interesting theory why State Sen. Peter Fitzgerald (R-Palatine) should be nominated for Congress. Fitzgerald's nomination will break up the "good old boy" Republican network in Lake County, according to Karlovics.

The outspoken young attorney looks at it this way: The Lake County Republican powerbrokers are waiting for incumbent Congressman Phil Crane to retire so they can hand pick his successor. "As a Republican, I can't tolerate that," exclaims Karlovics, whose law practice was interrupted during Marine Corps service during the Persian Gulf War.

Shore district now held by Democratic State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash (D-Highland Park), is down to one GOP standard bearer, Edna Schade.

Knocked off the ballot over a petition technicality was indefatigable Deloris Axelrod. A veteran campaigner, Deloris should have known better. Joyce O'Keefe, the choice of party leaders to retire Gash, never made it to the starting gate. GOP chieftains liked the credentials of O'Keefe, who shepherded the $30 million Forest Preserve bond issue to victory last fall, and originally endorsed her over both Axelrod and Schade.

From the vantage point of Party Lines, Gash will be tough to beat. Highland Park voters, even a lot of Republicans, like her liberal style. Just ask Charlie Cardella, who won the Republican nomination two years ago in an upset only to get flattened in November. His pro life viewpoints turned off shore line liberals and he hasn't been heard from since.

Down south—Bill Swanson wasted no time getting out of town after turning over the Libertyville Township assessor's reins to his successor. You'll find him these days on the first tee of some Florida golf course. And don't talk assessments or politics!

New career—The outcome of the March 15 referendum on continuation of the Chain O'Lakes/Fox River Water Management Agency has career implications for Lake County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad (R-Highland Lake).

Leafblad has signed on as campaign manager and is considering his future in political campaign management. The effervescent official can combine his 30 years background in advertising sales and public relations with practical experience gained in a couple of County

Schulien

Leafblad

Board campaigns, one successful and one not so successful.

Campaign arm—Ed Sindles, Republican candidate for sheriff, is benefiting from the efforts of the 10%ers, an organization that is firing out campaign releases with the help of a Waukegan firm.

The 10%ers, basically dissident employees in the sheriff's office, are hitting at a low crime solution rate under Sheriff Clint Grinnell, poor personnel communications, slow response times and members are raising questions about Grinnell finishing out his term. Nothing new here.

School demands mount as inequities abound

WILLIAM B. SNODGRASS

One of the basic issues confronting education today is the tremendous demands being placed upon public schools.

Are all the citizens willing to support these demands?

At the urging of parent groups, over the years expensive items related to basic education have been added: chorus, drama, band, breakfast at school, large cafeterias, gymnasiums, boys and girls sports, swimming pools, lighted football fields, bussing, and on and on.

Now there are course titles such as bi-lingual education, drivers ed, health and physical education, computer and technological education.

Between 1940 and the late 1960's the number of school districts in Illinois dropped from 12,000 to 1,300 to the present 946 and many of these small remaining districts should be consolidated now. Lake County had many of these tiny districts in the 1940's, there are a few left today. These schools did a good job offering the basic three R's.

These districts, though small, had strong parental support and control, had few teacher unions, low salaries, but dedicated teachers, most of whom graduated from actual teacher training institutions. After World War II our schools changed from the small rural atmosphere to larger urban unit districts offering many sophisticated and technical programs leading to the computer age.

More and more demands were placed upon educators as our population became more mobile, family values changed, and ethnic groups began to emerge. New technologies demanded immediate upgrading and changes in our educational institutions. School cost skyrocketed as these changes were implemented.

Is there equity in education and disparity in funding? In a study a few years ago the McAuley elementary district near West Chicago spent $12,866 per student compared to Dalzell Grade School in Bureau County who spent only $2,085. Is this equitable? I doubt it.

In Lake County in the elementary schools, Rondout spends $11,111 a student and North Chicago spends $5,249. Again is this fair and equitable? North Chicago tried to dissolve because of lack of funds. Lake Forest High School spends around $13,877 a student compared to Waukegan's Unit High School of $5,706. The State average is $5,300.

Some tough issues need to be answered:

1. Should we support school aid or Medicaid?
2. What is industry's roll in education? Are they doing enough?

3. Should the state fund only basic educational programs; math, science, English, social science and foreign languages? Who picks up the other programs? The local districts, it would seem.

4. Are the colleges preparing quality teachers or worrying more about research and grants?

5. Who funds education now in Illinois: State, local and part federal? Should this continue?

6. How then will education be funded in the future? More real estate taxes, income tax and sales tax?

7. What impact will the strong support of private schools have on public schools?

8. As State Rep. Bob Churchill says, "How can we get the best bang from the buck?"

Editorial note: William Snodgrass is a retired teacher, vocational and adult education director and former superintendent of North Chicago. He is a resident of Waukegan.

Edgar to request they work to repeal the Tollway Highway Act of 1990 signed by then Gov. Jim Thompson just before he left office.

This legislation gave the Tollway Authority the right to use tolls collected on one tollway on any other part of the system, or to add new tollroads to the system whether needed or not. This means that tolls will probably never go down, and that users of one tollway will be paying for another tollway even if they seldom or never use that other roadway.

The tollway system is a "cash cow" that is obviously abused by some of its executives, including the Executive Director, Robert L. Hickman, who uses public funds to charter a private helicopter approximately twice a month to fly to Springfield for meetings with an Edgar aide that most often last about one hour. Most of the time Mr. Hickman has been leaving his Downers Grove office via helicopter for these "business" meetings on Friday and returns to Chicago on Monday.

It is time they reduce tolls on those tollroads where revenue exceeds operating expenses, and it is time we make Gov. Edgar and his appointees more accountable on how these public funds are being spent.

Eye information

Editor:

Recently a section appeared in your newspaper entitled "Strictly for Seniors," with a headline of "Save your sight - see an ophthalmologist." While most of the information given in this article is correct, I would like to add to some of its content.

"Doctors of Optometry (O.D.'s) are independent primary health care providers who specialize in the examination, diagnosis, treatment and management of diseases and disorders of the visual system, the eye and associated structures as well as the diagnosis of related systemic conditions."— American Optometric Association. Optometrists train for four years after college.

A patient with a misaligned or "lazy" eye may also need vision therapy or orthoptics/pleoptics in conjunction with glasses, patching, eye drops or surgery to help to bring the vision back to the turned eye. Orthoptics/pleoptics strengthens a patient's control of the eye muscles and focusing systems, even if the patient does have a "lazy" eye.

Whereas, eye trouble may not be the cause of learning disabilities, there are many eye dysfunctions that may be misdiagnosed as learning disabilities. These dysfunctions can be treated with orthoptics/pleoptics (vision therapy).

No need to research

Editor:

Wetlands Research, Inc., (the firm contracted by the Lake County Forest Preserve for the Des Plaines River Wetlands Restoration Project) has taken a position stating opposition to the Yorkhouse Road extension through that project.

Certain articles in local papers quoting Don Hey, executive director of Wetlands Research, Inc., can be mis-construed as Wetlands Research, Inc., changing their position of opposition to the extension. Such is not the case says Tony Dean, chairman of the board of Wetlands Research, Inc.

One can only wonder why Don Hey has put himself and Wetlands Research, Inc., in a conflicting position by suddenly "counting the virtues of the road plan."

Certainly during the years that Wetlands Research, Inc. scientists have been monitoring the project with millions spent through state and federal grants, an immediate evaluation of such an undertaking as the Yorkhouse Road extension should be at hand. And it was. Hence, their statement of opposition! Why then, is it necessary for the Lake County Board to allocate $37,000 more to Wetlands Research, Inc. as part of the $600,000 study?

I believe in the concept of sustainable development, whereby "protecting the environment and promoting economic growth are not opposed to each other but rather are inseparable actions." (The 1992 Rio Earth Summit). The concept in essence means economic growth that we and future generations can live with without squandering the resources of the planet or undermining the biological system on which life depends.

Wetland preservation is not a (N.I.M.B.Y.) issue but a global issue which local residents should be able to address without fear of high-powered politicians ridiculing them and squandering county tax dollars to "prove" that the Yorkhouse Road extension through a highly functional wetland and wildlife sanctuary is sustainable development.

Wanted — Nature-loving volunteers at Volo Bog

TINA L. SWIECH

The Volo Bog State Natural Area in Ingleside is seeking adults interested in the out-of-doors and people. Simply put, the Volo Bog needs volunteers.

Volunteers are necessary to lead youth programs during the week and others are needed to help staff the visitor center on weekends.

According to Stacy Miller, program coordinator and naturalist, the people selected for the positions will receive training in March. Training for the youth programs takes three days and those naturalists contribute one 4- to 6-hour weekday per week. They will also conduct interactive educational programs, starting with Bog Life for kids ranging in age from 6 to 17 in first through twelfth grades.

Ten to 30 children are usually in a group, and the volunteer position is one of the most intense taking much from both time and energy. However the job is often the most rewarding, ending with hugs of thanks from the young learners, Miller explained.

Visitor Center volunteers are called "Docents" and they will attend a training workshop for the position two weekend days, six hours each.

The visitor job is an inside one, said Miller, and it involves telephone answering, and operating the small gift shop.

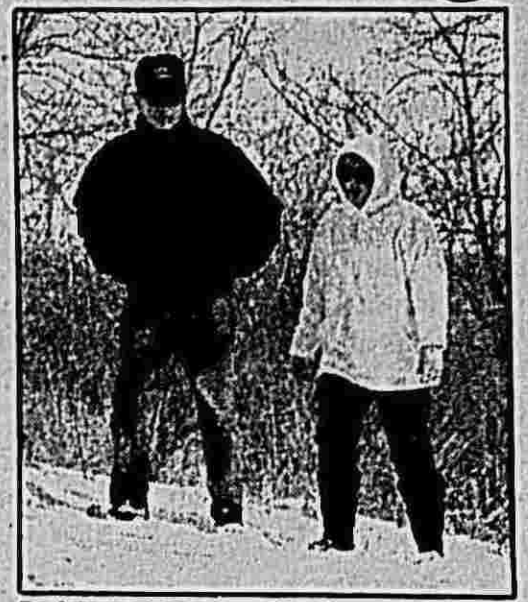

It is a position meant for those who are outgoing and who enjoy sharing stories and information with casual visitors. They also share their knowledge of bogs and natural history using the Visitor Center's educational tools such as the hands-on area, photo displays and video library.

The 169-acre Volo Bog is supported by state taxes, and employs three full-time staff members including between 35 to 45 volunteers.

Gates to the Bog are open nearly every day of the year with the exception of Christmas and New Years Day. The Visitor's Center operates from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and is open Thursday through Sunday.

Adults interested in joining the Volo Bog's volunteer team should contact the Site Interpretive Program Coordinator at (815) 344-1294.

The Volo Bog site is a part of the Illinois Department of Conservation located in Ingleside on Brandenburg Rd. west of Rte. 12 between Rtes. 120 and 134.

Cooks learn to create in a Prairie Kitchen

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

It's not your mother's meat loaf.

Even with skipping a few meals now and then, we still eat over 1,000 meals a year. That's a lot of recipes.

Adventurous cooks are always looking for ways to combine ingredients for a different taste to the same old basics. That's the idea behind Prairie Kitchens, a different kind of cooking school organized six years ago by Kristin James.

She began as a pastry chef for a catering company, and, although she enjoyed it, tired of the grueling hours. She was asked to fill in for a teacher in a food service program and had even more fun doing that.

"I realized there wasn't anyone offering classes solely directed at home cooks," she said. "I decided there was a need."

James has an extensive collection of recipes, many collected during her travels throughout the country.

Carolyn Friedman, an experienced caterer and cooking instructor, became James' partner last fall.

"We offer hands-on cooking classes for home cooks and amateur chefs," she said.

Using five or six tested recipes, they familiarize novices as well as experienced cooks with techniques and creative skills.

"We love doing this," said James. "Cooking is a creative and relaxing outlet. Those are things we try to share with students."

Students get a lot of confidence," she added. "We teach them when they make mistakes they don't have to throw it out."

Southern Lake County cooks gathered at the Dolores C. Sullivan Center in Vernon Hills for a sampling of gourmet pizzas. Chefs rolled up their sleeves and prepared five different pizza creations: Chicago-style deep dish pizza with the works; California-style pizza with grilled shrimp; semolina crust pizza with sautéed vegetable topping, pesto and sun-dried tomatoes; calzone with three cheeses and fresh herb filling; pizzeria-style thin crust pizza with fresh tomato sauce and three cheeses.

In addition to these classes, Prairie Kitchens will also present programs at meetings or parties. A cooking class is a unique idea for a wedding shower. It offers personal chef service as well, hosting parties for corporations and special events for advertisers. Their corporate accounts include Country Living Magazine and Family Circle. They also do promotions for major chains in the housewares industry.

The home office of Prairie Kitchens is located in Morton Grove; for more information call 966-7574.

Walt Disney on ice

Walt Disney's World on Ice featuring Aladdin will be staged in the Chicagoland area, Jan. 25 through 30 at the Rosemont Horizon and Feb. 1 through 13 at Chicago Stadium.

A magic carpet flies through a diamond-studded night and leaves viewers wondering: How does one simulate desert sandstorms and sunsets and create a giant genie who exploded onto the scene in a swirl of smoke? Transforming a bare ice arena floor into an opulent Arabian fantasy was a challenge that faced the creative team of Walt Disney's World on Ice—Aladdin.

Working closely with the Walt Disney Company, the memorable scenes from the motion picture were magically transformed. "We had to rethink the film, how to get the flow and feel of the action when translating the ice arena," said Robert Little, set designer. Tickets prices are $10.50, $13.50 and $17.50. To order tickets contact the box office at Rosemont, 635-6600 or Chicago Stadium at (312) 733-5300. Tickets are also available through Ticket Master.

Good Food Super appetizer time

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

It's Super Bowl time, and, if you're like me, this may be the only football game you watch all year.

I'm not much into football. The only time I really enjoyed football was when I was a student at Iowa State University. Rooting for the Cyclones was a social event on autumn Saturdays. As long as you knew which team had the ball, you could pretty much follow the game. Between the tailgate parties and victory celebrations (there were some), it made for a long, fun-filled Saturday.

Likewise, Super Bowl Sunday is a social event. It doesn't matter if you cheer for Dallas or Buffalo, or Bud or Bud Light, you can still have a good time. The commercials alone are great entertainment.

Super Bowl Sunday is a good excuse to gather with friends, probably for the first time since the holidays. It's the mid-winter event. And when the troops gather at your house for the big game, you'll probably want to serve up some munchies.

Following are three of my favorite dips/spreads. The BLT dip is a specialty from my cousin Bernadette, who will no doubt be watching the game. The Vegetable cream cheese is my own invention. The Cold cucumber sauce is from 'Fast and Fabulous Hors D'oeuvres by Michele Braden.

BLT dip

1/2 cup Miracle Whip

1/2 cup mayonnaise

1/4 cup bacon bits

1 tomato, cubed, seeded

Mix ingredients together and serve with Melba toast.

Vegetable cream cheese

8 ounces of cream cheese (softened)

1/2 carrot, grated

1 green onion, sliced thin

1 slice of green pepper, finely chopped

1/4 of a small cucumber, seeded, finely chopped

1 slice of red bell pepper, finely chopped

dash of seasoned salt

Blend ingredients, well, with a fork, shape into a mound and serve with bagel chips.

Cold cucumber sauce

1 medium to large cucumber, peeled, seeded, and minced

2 cups sour cream or yogurt

1 to 2 tablespoons capers, rinsed and drained

1/4 to 1/2 cup minced green onions or scallions

2 tablespoons minced fresh dill or 1/2 teaspoon dried salt, ground white pepper, and fresh lemon juice to taste

The recipe says to combine all ingredients in a food processor, but it got too watery, so I suggest mixing ingredients on low with an electric mixer, or by hand. Chill for at least 30 minutes before serving. Serve with pita chips or bagel chips.

Critic's Choice

'Tour de Farce'—something to laugh at

"Tour de Farce" is one of those wild romps involving a busybody bellboy, smarmy politician, snooping journalist, thieving maid and a not-so-perfect couple whose husband has authored "Marriage Is Forever."

Throw in for good measure an off-key singing, accordion-playing nun, a misemployed Swedish photographer and a would-be starlet with stars in her eyes.

Altogether there are 10 characters adding up to a funny night at Chicago's Appolo Theater, presented in an open-end engagement by Michael Leavitt and Fox Theatricals and Wisdom Bridge Theatre.

The kicker is that all of the roles are played by only two people: Steve Carell and Hollis Resnik.

Under Terry McCabe's direction, the frenetic pace never lets up as his cast changes not only costumes with lightning speed but speech and mannerisms as well—all without a miscue.

The set is ideal for these shenanigans: a nondescript hotel room with plenty of doors for hasty entrances and exits plus a large bed whose underside also makes a great hiding place.

Carell's Second City experience, where he honed his skills of perfect timing, stands well in "Tour de Farce." And Resnik, a respected stage veteran with many local credits, rises to the demanding roles; in fact, sometimes she overplays her hand.

How to speak Hawaiian like a Kamaaina

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

On my first trip to Hawaii, about all I learned is that almost all streets in Honolulu start with the letter "K" and could not be pronounced by anyone from the mainland. Well, I was wrong.

After learning a few simple rules, anyone can speak Hawaiian like a Kamaaina (a native-born Hawaiian).

"Hawaiian, unlike English, is strictly phonetic. The missionaries who first wrote the language just spelled out the words exactly as they were spoken. Each letter in a word is sounded separately, even two vowels that come together. For example, the island Kahoolawe is pronounced Kah-ho-oh-lah-way. There were no silent vowels to contend with. No rules to remember such as if a vowel is "long" or "short".

There are a few vowel combinations, however, "ai" is sounded as (eye), as in Hawaii, "Au" is (Ow) as in luau (that's where they roast the pig, etc.) "Ei" is (ay), as in "lei" (the flower necklace the pretty Hawaiian girl puts around your neck at the luau).

With those rules, and knowing the second to the last syllable gets the accent, you're on your way to speaking Hawaiian like a Kamaaina. See, you pronounced that right!

If it seems like many of the Hawaiian words look alike, it's because there are only 12 letters used in the Hawaiian language. Five vowels and seven consonants can only go so far. (Wheel of Fortune would be an easy game in Hawaiian).

How about a few simple words so we can practice? A man is a kane, a woman a wahine. You might roast a puua (pig) at a luau. When you want to thank someone, you say "Mahalo".

If you ask for directions, Hawaiians will usually tell you that some place is either makai (towards to sea) or mauka (island), rather than referring to north or south.

Get out those Hawaiian brochures your travel agent gave you and try some of those city names. You'll find it's kind of fun once you get the hang of it!!

Matthau, Lemmon, make us laugh

It's the "Odd Couple" at its best when Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau get together in "Grumpy Old Men."

Matthau's tit goes so well with Lemmon's tat, that we just never get tired of their grousing at one another.

These elderly gentlemen live in a small Minnesota town and they go along merrily bickering, fighting and crabbing at each other until the appearance of the rather mystical Ann Margaret in a sexy purple jumpsuit.

No one can be more hateful than Matthau as Lemmon's fastidiousness drives him crazier by the day.

This very funny, if sometimes plodding tale, involves a favorite Minnesota winter sport, ice fishing, and the fighting gets a little too serious here as Matthau attempts to do away with Lemmon by stabbing him with a frozen fish.

Kevin Pollack and Daryl Hannah, Matthau's son and Lemmon's daughter enter into a little Romeo and Juliet type-romantic subplot.

Despite all their verbal nastiness, we do not for one minute think the ending will be anything but what it is. If any two people love hating each other and do it to perfection, it's these two "Grumpy Old Men."

We rate "Grumpy" 3.5 out of five stars, an entertaining movie for the entire family.—by GLORIA DAVIS

WHERE TO EAT OUT

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Austin's dishes up Tex-Mex favorites

Those with a taste for authentic Southwestern cuisine need not travel to Texas. The real thing can be found right here in Lake County at Austin's, 481 Peterson Rd. in Libertyville.

The feast begins with a selection from "Most Wanted" appetizers, featuring such delights as rock salt shrimp, cowboy cluckers (wings) or tumble weeds (onion rings), as well as all the Southwestern standbys.

The main course offerings include everything from fajitas to swordfish. Adventurous diners will find mouthwatering specialties such as spicy adobe chicken, served in a velvety white sauce over corn pasta, and Margarita shrimp, marinated and topped with avocado and spices. Beef lovers can choose among a variety of tasty treats like flavorful marinated Texas skirt steak or the big ranch K bob, tenderloin skewered with onions and peppers, then grilled over hot coals.

For the lighter appetite, Austin's provides numerous salad choices for every taste. Those with a preference for seafood will learn that "Pescado means seafood" in a delicious combination of crab legs and shrimp garnished with tomatoes, black olives, cucumber and cheddar cheese over spinach. The Santa Fee salad piles marinated grilled chicken on greens, then adds tomatoes, olives, cilantro, onions, two cheeses and some blue corn chips for good measure.

A large array of sandwiches offers brats and burgers as well as unique combinations of pork, chicken and beef that will tempt the most discriminating palate. Big appetites will love the Texas-style clubs, available in several versions.

Daily specials feature even more tempting treats. Little cowpokes under 10 can eat free during Sunday's "Posse Night." Hours for Austin's Southwestern cafe are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and 11 a.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday.

C'mon over and join us at Austin's where food and fun come together!

Emmon Scott

Pianist Scott to perform one-man 'Mozart' show at CLC

Pianist Emmon Scott will call upon his theatrical and musical brilliance to recreate the life and music of Wolfgang Mozart in a one-man show at the College of Lake County Saturday, Feb. 5. "An Evening with Mozart" will begin at 8 p.m. in the auditorium at CLC's Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St. Though focusing on Mozart, the program will also include music by Bach, Hayden and Chopin, as well as selections by Joplin, Lennon and Sondheim.

Scott first performed as Mozart in California in 1984 after being inspired by the film "Amadeus." In his show, "Wolfgang and Ludwig," he portrayed the pouting, temperamental Mozart, playing themes from sonatas and operas and describing his marriage and life in Vienna. Since then Scott has taken his show on the road to concert halls and schools across the United States and entertained audiences of all ages.

Scott has a music degree from Harvard University, where he studied with Luise Vosgerchian, a pupil of the legendary Nadia Boulanger. While at Harvard, he was awarded the Leonard Bernstein Music Scholarship three times. He also won a fellowship from the Music Critics' Assn. to study opera criticism. He also studied acting at the Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis. He served as a classical music critic for the Los Angeles Times for two years.

Tickets to the program are $6 general admission and $4 for CLC students and alumni. Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express will be accepted. Call 223-6601, ext. 2300.

Teacher mini-grants available

Applications are available for the eighth annual Ruth Hathorne Memorial Grant for area teachers. Awards of up to $500 will be given to public school teachers for projects on international/intercultural relations.

To be eligible, applicants must teach in the following communities: Waukegan, North Chicago, Zion, Winthrop Harbor, Gurnee, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Lake Bluff, Round Lake, Wadsworth, Wildwood, Antioch, Grayslake, Ingleside and Kenosha.

Applications are available at schools and from the project coordinator, at 336-1795. They must be submitted by March 1.

Established by the Waukegan

Area Branch of the American Association of University Women, the fund honors Ruth Hathorne, a charter member of the branch who died in 1985. Hathorne taught in Waukegan schools and served on the school board for many years.

She graduated Phi Beta Kappa in 1922 from the University of Nebraska. She was active in such civic organizations as AAUW, YWCA, Methodist Church and League of Women Voters. Because she was concerned about world peace, the fellowship stipulates that grant money be used in public schools for projects which enhance students' understanding of international or intercultural relations.

United Way of Lake County seeks volunteers

United Way of Lake County is currently recruiting volunteers for its Allocations panels. Approximately 90 volunteers are needed to review the 106 programs operated through 51 local agencies that receive funding from United Way of Lake County.

The Allocations panel process includes four main steps. First, panels review written funding requests and budgets of agency programs. Second, panels tour the agencies and meet with program directors to ask questions and receive more detailed information. Third, the panels evaluate the programs' effectiveness and efficiency. And fourth, panel members make funding recommendations to United Way of Lake County.

Two separate panel sessions are planned to help accommodate volunteer schedules. The first panels operate February through May, and the second panels run May through August. There is an average of six to eight meetings total, and meeting times and frequencies vary with each panel.

"By involving volunteers in this important task, people in the community can have significant input into how monies given to United Way of Lake County are distributed to programs," said Michelle Crombie, director of planning and fund distribution. "Participating on a panel is also an excellent way for people to see first-hand what local issues are and how contributions to United Way of Lake County really help people in need."

For more information or to participate on an Allocations panel, call United Way of Lake County at 816-0063.

Music center honors Daniel Barenboim

The Music Center of the North Shore will honor Daniel Barenboim, music director of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, at its 1994 Recognition Dinner on Monday, Feb. 14 at the Hyatt Regency Chicago, 151 E. Wacker Dr. in Chicago. Themed "a celebration of love and music," the annual fundraiser will begin at 6 p.m. with cocktails in the Regency Ballroom in the West Tower and dinner following at 7 p.m. The black-tie (optional) event costs $150 per person.

The evening will feature performances by Music Center students. Violinist Rachel Barton, student and teacher at The Music Center, also will perform with Barenboim, who will accompany her on the piano. Barenboim is the ninth music director of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and also is the artistic director and general music director of the Staatsoper Berlin.

Former Music Center honorees include Bruno Bartoletti, artistic director of Lyric Opera of Chicago; Margaret Hillis, founder and director of the Chicago Symphony Chorus; Sherrill Milnes, international opera and concert artist; Sir Georg Solti, music director laureate of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and Lady Solti; and Ardis Krainik, general director of Lyric Opera of Chicago. Distinguished arts patrons also honored are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Boone; Louis Sudler, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Montgomery; and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Richman. Richman is the president of the Orchestral Association for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. William A. Boone of Glencoe is honorary chairman for the event; Mrs. John M. Richman of Wilmette is benefit chairman; and Mrs. Ray E. Newton, Jr. of Winnetka is vice chairman.

The Music Center, founded in 1931, is one of the nation's most prominent music teaching institutions. More than 2,500 students of all ages, from 86 communities, attend The Music Center, where distinguished, highly mentorial teaching and learning programs are at the core of the school's mission. A number of The Music Center's students continue to win regional, national and international music contests, including the majority of medals in the Illinois Young Performers Competition. In addition, The Music Center serves children and adults with special needs through "The Institute for Therapy through the Arts," the only comprehensive community-based arts therapy program in the United States. ### BEST of

A compilation of some of the best fashion advice from the experts.

I see London

As the father of a Grayslake student, I was offended by the lack of dress code of the varsity cheerleaders at a recent scrimmage. Is it necessary for these young women to so blatantly expose their underwear in public? Harumph! Proper attire should be mandated by the rules of the school.

Just fashion

I wonder about the fashion of having baggy shorts that come down to your ankles. I don't know what the deal is. Did they come from planet Mars? Nobody looks very good. What happened to old fashioned jeans and a tee shirt? I am from Fox Lake.

Style not a crime

I'm calling to respond to "Fashion statement." I am appalled that this person is a social worker and thinks that a dress code would be a cause for a child's abuse. A dress code has nothing to do with it. This person should go back to school. A fashion statement is exactly that, a fashion statement. It is a way children express themselves.

Carnivore clothes

Those who are against leaf burning should also be against fireplaces and barbecuing. I agree, however, that the only place fur belongs is on an animal. There are enough man-made materials to make clothing. Only hunters and those that eat the meat should wear fur or leather.

Disgusted

I totally agree that these baggy, dirty clothes the kids wear are just another excuse for kids to be slob. It is not fashion, it is disgusting.

Editorial note: Dear reader, you sound just like my mother in 1973! She thought my bell bottoms, platform shoes, and fatigue jacket was simply an excuse to be a slob. Twenty years later, our children seem to be dressing like rodeo clowns. What goes around, comes around. It really is just fashion.

We invite readers to drop us a line and tell us your opinions regarding our new look.

A dirty shame

It is starting again. The girl who got into the military academy. I think it is a dirty shame that the boys can't have anything for themselves. It seems that these dames are just breaking up groups. Why didn't she go to an all girls school?

More insurance help

I read sometime ago about someone who was having trouble getting their insurance to pay their hospital bills. I had the same problem six years. I contacted the Illinois Department of Insurance, consumer services division. The telephone number is (217) 782-7446. By the way, your newspaper looks a lot better with the changes.

Try moving it

I have a gripe about our mayor in Fox Lake. He wants riverboat gambling. They went down to Springfield to petition for a gambling license. If he wants gambling in town, he should move it next to his funeral home.

Are there problems?

Why did all the teachers go to the ACHS board meeting? Could there be problems with discipline, attendance, and that the superintendent won't listen to them?

High praise

I would like to praise the man who keeps the roads clear in the Stanton Point Subdivision. Your job is excellent at all times.

Bad dog owner

I was totally appalled by Round Lake Beach arresting the Good Samaritan who tried to help the poor dog left out in the cold. Any dog who was left out any longer than to relieve itself in the past few days is totally neglected. The dogs owners should have been arrested.

Testy letter

Is it just me or is it my imagination that the letter from Avon Township about Youth Baseball was a little hostile? Made you want to sign your child up, didn't it?

More proof

Once again Mayor Davis has proved what an incompetent administrator he is. He has fired a very qualified public works director Richard Kinsel.

Look to the future

This is to "Out of money." You must not have any children in Gavlin Central and not walked around the school lately. It is falling apart. I am the mother of six children. I can't really afford a tax increase either, but then I think about my children's children.

Thanks for the thanks

We want to thank the mothers who came to the Silver Foxes at the Fox Lake Community Center who thanked us for the Christmas Bags we gave to the 80 children.

Work towards Easter

Remind people to take down their Christmas ornaments. I hate to see them in March and April.

The real reason

I am tired of hearing about what a great job Pete Jakstas does. Doesn't anyone know that the only reason he does anything is to pad his own pocket. I think it is about time the proper authorities should check just how much money the village has paid to him in the past 10 years.

Never learn

People, are we never going to learn from our neighbor's experiences? I am watching out my window as water runs out all over our subdivision. This is a result of the cable company. They are out here destroying our subdivision. Why couldn't they have laid the cable when the other utilities were put in? There is no reason for it. Don't they know the little red flags are not butt scratchers? A pox on them.

How romantic

I would like your lips to do the talking.

Different pictures

Invariably you see pictures of highway workers working out in the cold. However, very, very rarely do you see pictures of firemen working out in the cold. Or policemen. Or, you never see letter carrier. I have never seen a picture of a letter carrier walking in the ice and cold. I would like to see that. They contribute a lot to our life.

Go for it

I think it would be a great idea to print the pamphlet, "Secrets of a loan officer." I attempted to get a loan a couple of years ago in Barrington. In the end, it cost us well over $1,000 that was to only be denied the loan in court. I say, go for it.

Honest people

To the person who found my car keys on the ground by my car outside the Jewel in Round Lake on Jan. 20, thank you. You brought them to the service desk. It is refreshing to know that there are honest people like you out there. Thank you again and again.

What's in a name

This notice is for everyone's information. The old Route 120 which runs east and west through Volo is officially named Volo Village Road. Old Volo Village is a business in the area. Please do not call the road Old Volo Village Road as it is confusing and not clear. Thank you for having Lipservice.

Look at the good things

Don't you people in Antioch have anything to do but pick on the public safety director. Why don't you start taking a look at some of the good things this man has done for our community instead of the negative things? Get a life people.

So there

I wish everyone would stop talking about "Pagan holidays." God saved everybody.

She's sick

I am sick of people second guessing Ron Rivera's conviction. Get on with your lives.

GET IT OFF YOUR CHEST (708) 223-8073

Lakeland

Stop disrespecting

This is to the pagans who are disrespecting normal Christian people. Come on, this is supposed to be a nice world and all religions are supposed to be kind to each other. What happened to "love thy neighbor?" And, talk about the man over beast issue. I wish they had a controlled hunt of jerks like you.

Cream help

I am calling about the person who found the milk bottle from the creamery. I remember seeing a display set up at the park district. Try either them or the Round Lake Historical Society.

Add the cinema

I enjoy your new newspaper format and request that the Mundelein Cinema be included in your list of movie offerings. Thank you.

More than water

Wake up people of Round Lake Heights. We aren't just buying the water from Round Lake Beach. Who is Terry working for? Us or himself?

Bad idea

I am calling in response to "Business Idea." I also am a loan officer and people can call me anytime for advice without being charged for it. Bad idea, dude.

Creamery history

My grandfather Claus Junge bought out three partners of the Forest Glen Creamery in 1927 and formed the Round Lake Creamery Company with a partner named John B. Pike of Fox Lake. It was on Nippersink Avenue and is now an industrial site. The two story cement block building is across the Amoco Station in Round Lake. It was in business until 1946.

Editorial note: Dear readers, for more information about this call Alec Junge (no relation), Round Lake reporter at 223-8161.

What's the problem?

I am curious why none of the races do not feel discriminated against by advertisements such as "all black radio station" and specific events such as black history month.

Truth serum

Are all the allegations that Chief Jablonsky made about Round Lake police officers true? Why not have him take a polygraph examination? Bring back memories, Rich?

Why charge?

I have a question about the guy who wants to put out a $20 pamphlet, "Secrets of a Loan Officer." If he is going to do it to help people, why would we have to pay $20? I thought that was a loan officers job, to help people get a loan.

Lack of work

To the idiot who keeps saying he was unjustly fired. It takes more than one incident to get fired. So your lack of work was over a period of time and noticed by others. Keep up the good work Round Lake Scrooge.

More creamery help

If you want, you can go to a library or a bookstore and find out the bottle you found. I wouldn't throw it away, I would keep it. There are books about bottles in Hawthorn at the Dalton Book Store. It might tell you all about the bottle. The library also will no doubt have some information.

Happy to be gone

I would like to make a comment about the caller who complained about the Warren administrator. First of all, he is not an administrator, he is the superintendent. His management style is a result of his vindictiveness and jealousy. Also, honesty is not in his vocabulary. Sign me happy to be gone.

Proud fan

I wanted to call to tell you how proud I am to be from Mundelein. I attended the varsity basketball game and watched six Libertyville policemen line up to keep the Mundelein fans from going onto the floor. There was not one officer on the Libertyville side. Of course, the Libertyville fans, in their excitement left the stands trampling one of their own. It was ironic. They ended up hurt.

Secret document

Here is a riddle for Mayor Davis. What four page document given to you after you appointed Jablonsky affirming his propensity for not telling the truth could bury the both of you?

Some resolutions

Here are some New Year's resolutions. First of all, we should have local groceries carry fine wines. Two, we should not allow trucks on the Main Streets of Grayslake or Gurnee anymore. Three, we should condemn Hainseville. Number four, we should start recognizing that people around here need to further their education.

The Rock is rolling

Yeah, the Rock Church is for sale. I hope that dictator church moves far away and quits brainwashing people. I believe in God and the Bible, but the Rock Church should be stoned.

Move out

I would like to leave a message for the old fart that lives on east end of Claridon. If the music is too loud, why don't you move out? It is about time you moved to a retirement home.

History lesson

The Round Lake Creamery was located just behind the village hall on Railroad Avenue. It existed from the turn of the century to the mid 1940s. It is presently occupied by several other businesses. The creamery served local dairy farmers during that time. They brought their milk to the creamery for pasteurization and then shipped it out to various locations. This is from the Round Lake Historical Society.

A challenge

The organization called Mundelein Pride had a little publicity last week. I offer a challenge to Mundelein Pride. We have a white elephant in Mundelein. It is an eyesore. Maybe the group can do something with that big empty store. Lets get on the stick. We are looking for a good restaurant in town.

Do something

This is directed to the Round Lake School Board. When are you going to do something about the athletic director? How can an athletic director who is a head coach? Also, why are we hiring coaches that are not on staff? Hasn't the department been blemished enough last year?

Builder has long history of success

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

In the late 1800s German-born Karl Stefan helped house miners during the gold rush era by building clap-board homes in Nevada and California.

His son and grandson continued the trade in the midwest, explaining how Mundelein resident Paul Stefan has "100-years of experience" imprinted on his business cards.

Stefan Builders, who pride themselves in doing all phases of carpentry, operate on the policy that no call is ever too small. Simply put, the formula for success is "perseverance" and "follow-up."

"I pay attention to every call even if someone wants me to go out and look at a broken window," Stefan said.

Sometimes this small call will evolve into something bigger and better for the builder. Stefan gave an example of a story with a happy ending.

"A man from Hinsdale called me up to set some cabinets in his kitchen," explained the 36-year carpenter. "He liked the work so much, I ended up building three custom homes for him last year."

This year Stefan Builders has constructed several houses in Mundelein, among other jobs.

Starting in the trade when he was 14, working after school and weekends with his father, the contractor didn't always have carpentry on his mind. After high school the builder enrolled himself in pre-medicine courses at the University of Illinois in Chicago, with the goal of become a doctor.

By the time he was in his early 20s, Stefan said he became disenchanted with the glory of being a physician and went back to his first love—building, and has been in it ever since.

At one point when in DuPage County, Stefan's business was so large he had more than 100 men on his payroll. These days he prefers to keep the construction business smaller, but will add more workers when needed.

When Stefan employed more men, he was established in DuPage County, but moved to the Mundelein area to be closer to where his father William Stefan and his uncle, Fred Dykes had made an impression in the business.

In fact, the very first apartment complex, and the oldest one still standing, was constructed by their former company known as Diamond Lake Builders on Diamond Lake Rd. next to the lake.

Stefan said he is glad he made the move.

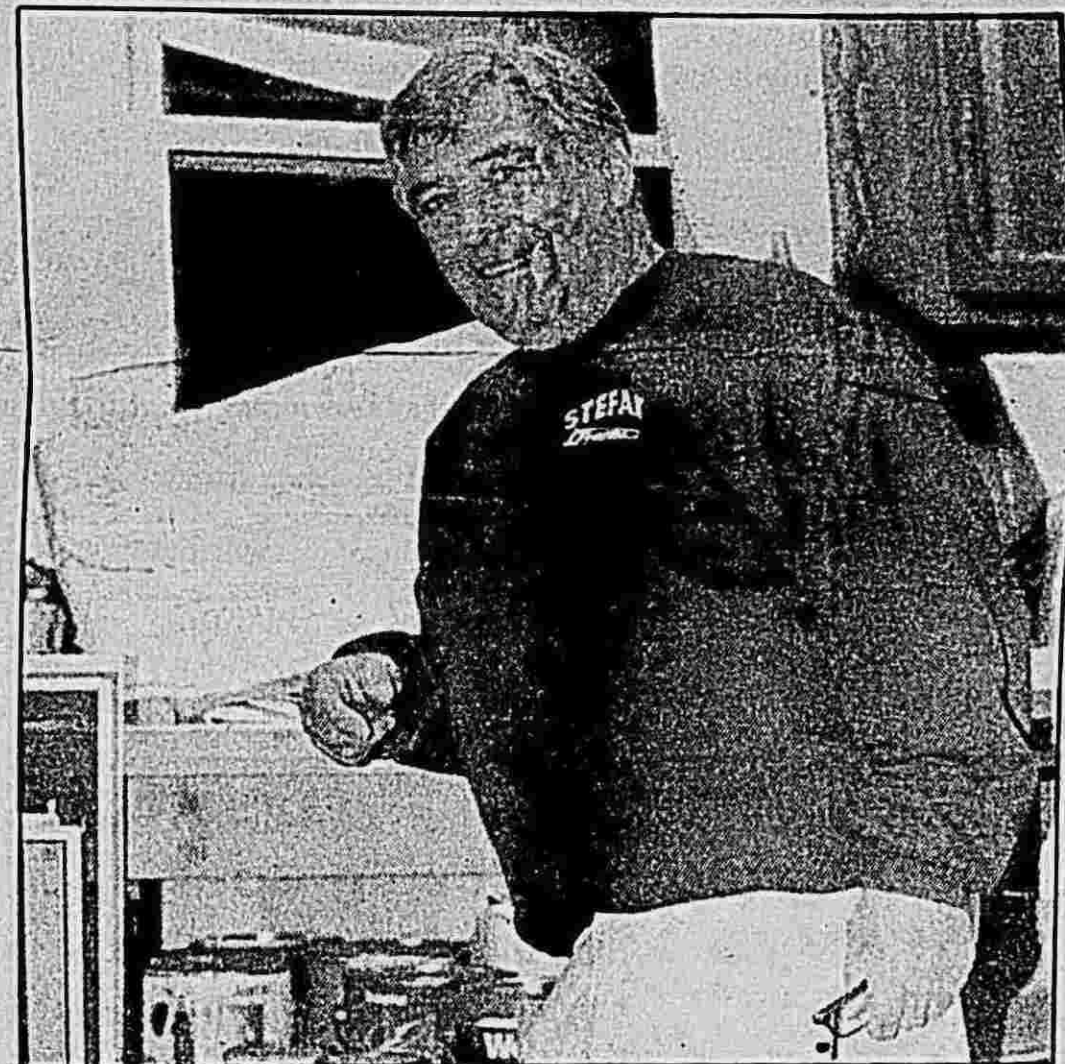

"I prefer working in Lake County," he said. After all, his home is in the county and many of his family members live nearby. At one time, the Stefan family owned several homes next to each other on Diamond Lake Rd.

Paul lives with his two children and his mother, 87-year old Anna Stefan, who was well-known at one time as the babysitter of nearly all Mundelein kids. Anna had a daycare center in her home during the 1950's and 1960's. When asked what advice Stefan has for anyone just starting out in the business, he had three major points that should be kept as a policy: follow-up all the way through; like what you're doing; and do the best job possible.

Happiness in what you're doing is really the key to successful business, said Stefan. Often the builder will notice contractors who are just not enthused about their jobs and their work reflects it.

For any of your residential, commercial or industrial building needs contact Stefan Builders at (708) 566-6876.

Paul Stefan started in the building trade at the age of 14. He has constructed several custom homes in Mundelein this past year.

New owner mum on plans for Lakeland plaza

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

Although the new owner seems a little shy, the village mayor wasn't afraid to announce that Dwight Yackley is only a short time away from becoming the owner of Lakeland Plaza lock, stock and barrel.

At the Chamber of Commerce and Industry luncheon Jan. 25, Fox Lake Mayor Ken Hamsher told the crowd, "Mr. Yackley will become the official owner of the plaza within hours."

After the luncheon, Yackley and his assistant whisked off to the closing, stating they had no time for comments or photos.

Yackley said he still didn't want to comment on anything, even if he indeed was the new owner of the Lakeland Shopping Plaza which went up for auction in December.

"I refuse to comment at this time," said Yackley who has been careful to stay away from the limelight of Fox Lake.

According to Paul Demik of the David Kaufman & Company in Chicago, Yackley was the successful bidder, and the asking price was $1,150,000.

Demik said that the new owner has previous experience with shopping center sites and plans a major renovation at the plaza. Yackley, however, refused to comment again, and said he would send a press release when he was ready.

Printing firms garner awards

The following firms collected honors at the North Shore Club of Printing House Craftsman annual gallery of superb printing: best of show to Quantum Color Graphics for Marmon Annual Report; seven awards of excellence to RPP Enterprises; four to Lake County Press; four to James W. Smith Printing Co.; four to Quantum Color Graphics; three to Carqueville TCR Graphics; two to Haapanen-Burkett-Haapanen and one each to Nosco and Larsen Envelope. ## Know facts when buying home

"Purchasing your first home is a lot more than looking through the Sunday papers and finding pictures of houses that look interesting," says Toni Wolford, relocation director for Century 21 Epifanio and Associates, Antioch. "But, believe it or not, there are a lot of us out there that don't have a clue about mortgage prequalification, attorney approval riders, and home inspection options."

In an effort to assist first time buyers, who currently represent a major share of today's buyers, with all the steps required to actually purchase a first home, Toni Wolford of Century 21 Epifanio and Associates, is spearheading a free seminar at the Best Western Regency Inn on Feb. 9.

"We're starting our seminar entitled 'How To Become a Powerful First Time Buyer' with an early bird session at 6 p.m. For one hour, seminar participants will be able to talk with attorneys, loan officers, home inspectors, and realtors without any obligation. In fact, John Feiertag of PNC Mortgage will prequalify anyone who registers before Feb. 7 and have a complete analysis done for them by the seminar," continues Toni.

The program runs from 7 to 9 p.m. with John Feiertag of PNC Mortgage, Amy Bates of John Galley and Associates Law Firm, and Bruce Sweda of Absolute Home Inspection providing good ideas on getting financial, legal, and home protection advice.

Of course, the realtors from Century 21 Epifanio and Associates will be available to those who want specific home information.

If you are going to purchase a home now or in the very near future, this seminar is a must for you!

For further information, contact Toni Wolford, Century 21 Epifanio and Associates at 395-5900.

Ed Kanabay offers satisfaction guaranteed

Ed Kanabay, a leading residential real estate agent with Re/Max Advantage Realty, announced a new real estate program offering, "satisfaction guaranteed," returning 100 percent of his commission, based on the performance of his real estate services.

"I am promising, in writing, that I will refund my entire commission if my sellers are not unconditionally satisfied with my performance," said Kanabay. "Satisfaction guaranteed reflects my confidence and ability to do the best job possible. It is a confirmation of my genuine commitment to service and to my clients."

Kanabay believes that today, more than ever, businesses understand that customer satisfaction is critical in building a long-term relationship. Today's consumer, especially a seller, wants to be treated with kindness and respect.

For details contact Re/Max Advantage Realty, 532 W. Lake St., Antioch, Ill. 60002. Kanabay's telephone number is 395-3000 ext. 105.

Indexing tax brackets

What does it mean to "index" the tax brackets, and why is it important to taxpayers?

Tax bracket indexing is a way to help neutralize the effect of inflation on the percentage of your income that you pay in federal income taxes. If your wages are increased this year by exactly the amount of inflation, and the tax bracket you are in is indexed to inflation, you would have the same after-tax buying power as you had last year.

For example, in 1993 the tax bracket for married filers was applied to taxable income of $36,901 through $89,150. For 1994 the 28% bracket will be inflation adjusted (indexed) to cover taxable income of $38,001 through $91,850. This is about a 3% inflation adjustment. Therefore, if a married couple earning $89,150 received a 3% increase in income in 1994, they will still be in the 28% tax bracket and not the 31% bracket had indexing not been in effect.

Under the new tax law, as was true under the old, the tax bracket thresholds will be indexed each year for inflation. However, the indexing of the thresholds for the new 36% and 39.6% brackets will not take effect until 1995.

Some taxpayers in these upper two brackets could experience "bracket creep" from 1993 into 1994. For example, a married couple in 1993 with taxable income of $140,000 pays a top rate of 31%. If they received a 1994 inflation adjustment in earnings of $4,000, bringing their taxable income up to $144,000, the $4,000 pay increase would be taxed at 36%. If indexing had applied, the 31% bracket would have been expanded so that this couple would not have ended up in the 36% bracket. The additional tax caused by the bracket creep is $200 ($4,000 x 5%).

Keep in mind that when your additional income goes into a higher tax bracket, all of your income is not subject to that higher percentage. In our example, only the $4,000 increase for this married couple is taxed at the 36% bracket.

Making sure your income and income producing assets keep pace with inflation is extremely important for all individuals. Consider an individual who is earning $50,000 per year when inflation is averaging 5% per year. In five years, this person would need to be earning $63,814 to have the same purchasing power as five years earlier when they were earning $50,000 per year.

For those in the upper income tax brackets during this next year it is also important to watch for "bracket creep" and if possible defer income to 1995 when indexing will begin on these upper brackets.

Beginning your 1994 tax planning now will allow you enough time to make any changes which may be needed. As always you should consult your financial

Com Ed, Discover offer opportunities

Commonwealth Edison

Commonwealth Edison's problems in the last few years have been well documented. With several lawsuits having been settled, the most recent being a discrimination suit brought by qualified women who were not hired in the '80s costing CWE $3 million, CWE appears to be heading in a better direction.

After naming Sam Skinner as CEO, the lawsuits, which hung like a black cloud, have been settled, as well as several cost cutting measures implemented. These developments have been seen as mostly positive by Wall Street, although analysts are well divided on which way the stock may go.

The latest opinions on CWE have it presently with a valuation of $33 a share. On this basis, and the stock's apparently stable 5.8 percent current dividend, CWE looks like a good stock for investors seeking growth and income.

Dean Witter, Discover & Co.

Formerly a part of the Sears Financial Network, DWD was spun off initially in February of 1993 and the second part was spun off in June of 1993. DWD provides the investment firm Dean Witter Financial, Discover Card, and other associated companies.

Based on some strong earnings in the first half of 1993, the stock shot up from an initial offering price in February of $27 to the present $39 range. For the first six months of 1993, DWD's earnings were up 42 percent on 9 percent higher revenues.

The stock continues to look attractive at about a 11.7 P/E ratio, especially when one considers that earnings are expected to grow at 15 percent annually over the next five years.

The quarterly dividend was raised on Jan. 20 from $0.10 per share to $0.125 per share, giving it an effective yield of 1.2 percent.

All Wall Street analysts are in agreement on DWD. It is a strong buy for investors seeking growth with a 12 to 16 month price target of $52 a share.

For more information about these stocks or to sign up for an investment seminar I will be giving sponsored by the Grayslake Park Dist. at the Legion Building on Monday, Jan. 31 at 7 p.m., feel free to call me at 223-1908.

Prust renamed McHenry State Bank president

The 88th annual stockholders meeting of the McHenry State Bank was chaired by William J. Cowlin who told the stockholders of his pleasure with the smooth transition to the new building.

The bank has just completed the first full year in the new expanded facility. It was an eventful year with Ormel J. Prust ascending the presidency of the bank replacing Thomas F. Bolger, who retired after 52 years of service. Prust became only the ninth person to hold the office of president in the bank's 88-year history.

Prust reported another record year in both earnings and asset growth. Total assets exceed $420 million. The bank earned $22.21 per share, an increase of 4.2 percent over the previous year.

Prust also told the stockholders that two new, experienced officers had joined the bank staff during the year. John E. Savage heads the credit department, while Charles Collier heads the lending division. Long time employee Pam Umbarger was appointed compliance officer in November.

Vice President and Comptroller Richard L. Campobello said the bank's 1.74 percent return on average assets far exceeded the acceptable percentage for banks the size of McHenry State Bank. In response to an inquiry, Campobello said the normally acceptable benchmark was 1 percent return on average assets.

The stockholders re-elected a Board of Directors consisting of William J. Cowlin, Geraldine Cowlin, Thomas F. Bolger, Ormel J. Prust and William J. Cowlin, Jr.

William J. Cowlin chairman, Geraldine C. Cowlin vice chairman, and Betsy Mochling secretary. Prust was renamed president.

Collier was elected vice president and head of lending. William E. Anderson was named collection officer. Three new supervisors were appointed: Kim Lippert, mortgage loans; Tammy Wood, credit card; and Mary Diedrich, special services.

Year-end retrospective, year-ahead expectations

FRED HOFFMAN

The NASDAQ over-the-counter index provided equity investors with sizzle in 1993 by rising an eye-popping 14.75 percent. The Dow Jones Industrials, however, provided the proverbial steak in advancing 13.72 percent for the year.

Lesser, albeit respectable, gains were recorded by the Value Line Composite (+10.72 percent) and the S&P 500 (+7.05 percent). Small capitalization stock investing has proven to be the most lucrative over the past two calendar years rising by an average annual rate of over 15 percent as shown by the chart below.

By 1980's standards, 1993 could be viewed as a sub-par year, except for small cap investors, but by historical measures for low inflation periods such as we are experiencing now, it measured up well indeed.

Index names: Dow Jones—1992, 4.17 percent, 1993, 13.72 percent; Nasdaq—1992, 15.50 percent, 1993, 14.75 percent; Standard and Poor's—1992, 4.46 percent, 1993, 7.05 percent; Value line index, 1992, 7 percent, 1993, 10.72 percent.

Two reasons

Our analysis of the strong relative performance of the Dow Jones Industrials uncovered two themes leading to superior appreciation—restructuring and economic sensitivity.

Take a look at these 1993 price advances, General Motors (+70.16), Caterpillar Tractor (+65.9 percent), Eastman Kodak (+38.89 percent), Union Carbide (+28.9 percent), and Goodyear Tire (+33.8 percent). These companies provide evidence of the appropriateness of the cyclical, restructuring investment theme for the 1990's. By comparison, we offer the following litany of Dow Jones laggards—Philip Morris (-27.3 percent), Merck & Co. (-20.7 percent), and Woolworth Corp. (-19.76 percent).

In the S&P 500 during 1993, as shown in the following table on S&P sector performance, only the consumer staples (-0.72 percent) posted negative returns with tobacco and selected food processing issues the primary culprits.

The conglomerates sector posted the strongest performance last year with six of the seven issues in that sector rising between 26 percent and 50 percent. The 23.69 percent advance in the credit cyclical category was led by Lowes Companies (+146.6 percent) and Armstrong World (+67.6 percent). Technology issues advanced 24.9 percent on average, paced by DSC Communications (+179.5 percent) and Lotus Development (+130.25 percent). At the other end of the technology spectrum, Apple Computer was off by better than 51 percent, followed by Novell (-27 percent) and Northern Telecom (-28.2 percent).

Below are our hopes, expectations and concerns in random order for 1994.

1. The bull market, while showing definite signs of aging, will continue for yet another year. The 38 month age of the current bull market compares with an average life of 29 months for bull markets since World War II.

2. In terms of the various indexes we follow, we expect the strongest performance from the Dow Jones Industrials reflecting the earnings power of its cyclical components and a subdued recovery in the consumer durables issues.

3. NASDAQ issues will trail the Dow very closely, but not achieve the 15 percent average gains of the last two years; gains can be expected in the lower double digit area.

4. The record (for the 20th century) three year stretch of rising stock prices without a 10 percent correction will end in 1994, reflecting investors concerns about a rekindling of inflation caused by an acceleration in economic growth and production bottlenecks in the downsized industrial sector.

5. The trend toward global or international investing is expected to subside following the dramatic appreciation in Pacific Rim and Southern Hemisphere investments. On a relative basis U.S. equities appear undervalued.

6. Demand for U.S. equities will emanate from overseas investors whose U.S. equity holdings are at historical lows and who are basking nervously in the glow of dramatic gains in emerging markets in 1993, and the individual investor whose stock holdings are still only 21 percent of household financial assets.

7. Given our hopes of escalating levels of final demand, we expect earnings rather than interest rates to drive equity valuations higher. Finally, the "E" side of the "P/E" equation will kick in as growth in final demand and productivity enhancements combine to produce positive earnings surprises in 1994.

Understanding tax terms helps with filing

With the passage of a new tax law and the arrival of tax season, taxes are on everyone's minds and lips. To help you better understand all that tax talk, the Illinois CPA Society offers the following definitions of common terms.

Adjusted gross income—The amount of income used as the basis for determining your eligibility for certain deductions. Specifically, it refers to the balance you obtain after reducing your gross income by certain adjustments and deductions, such as alimony and deductible contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs).

Taxable income—For individuals, taxable income is adjusted gross income reduced by certain deductions, adjustments and personal exemptions. It is the amount you use as the base to calculate your tax liability.

Marginal tax rate—The tax rate at which each additional dollar of income over a specific ceiling is taxed. For example, under the new tax law, married individuals filing jointly are subject to a marginal tax rate of 36 percent on taxable income in excess of $140,000.

Capital gains tax—The tax paid on the gain realized on the sale or exchange of a capital asset, such as stocks and bonds. The current maximum capital gains tax is 28 percent.

Luxury tax—A 10 percent excise tax that applies to luxury cars valued at $30,000 or more for 1993. As a result of the new tax law, in future years this $30,000 threshold will be indexed for inflation. The new tax law repealed the luxury tax on equipment installed after 1990 to help disabled people operate a vehicle. It also did away with the luxury tax on big-ticket purchases of boats, aircraft, jewelry and furs.

Casualty loss—Casualty losses result from a sudden, unexpected or unusual event, such as a fire, hurricane or flood. Within certain limits, personal casualty losses are deductible from your AGI.

Child and dependent care credit—A credit of up to 30 percent of the expenses you incur for care of a qualified dependent when the expenditures make it possible for you to work.

Dependent—For tax purposes, dependents are individuals whom you support financially, and who meet certain other requirements, such as relationship, residency and income tests.

Dependency exemption—A fixed deduction that you may claim for any individual who qualifies as your dependent. For 1993, each exemption is worth $2,350. The exemption phases out if your AGI exceeds $108,450 for single individuals, $162,700 for married individuals filing jointly, $135,600 for heads of household, and $81,350 for married individuals filing separately.

Earned income credit—A credit of up to $3,370 is available to lower income taxpayers. The 1993 tax law expanded the credit to include some childless couples as well as those with children.

Itemized deductions—Deductions from your adjusted gross income for such items as medical expenses, state and local taxes, charitable contributions, unreimbursed employee business expenses, moving expenses, and casualty and theft losses. There are specific requirements for and limitations on the deductibility of each of these items. In most cases, taxpayers whose total itemized deductions exceed the standard deduction (see below) can itemize their deductions.

Miscellaneous itemized deductions—These include certain unreimbursed job and business expenses, expenses directly connected with the production of income, and fees for tax preparation services. Only those miscellaneous expenses that exceed 2 percent of your AGI are deductible.

Moving expense deduction—A deduction for certain expenses necessitated by an employment-related job transfer, provided that the distance between the taxpayer's new job and former home is at least 35 miles farther than the distance between the taxpayer's old job and the former residence. For tax years beginning in 1994, the distance test is increased from 35 to 50 miles.

Standard deduction—A deduction that may be claimed by those who choose not to itemize deductions on their tax return.

'Taxpayers Bill of Rights' guarantees specific protection

In 1988, Congress passed an unusual measure attached to a piece of technical tax legislation. It was called the "Taxpayer Bill of Rights," and it guaranteed specific protections to taxpayers when dealing with the Internal Revenue Service.

Here are a few of your rights as a taxpayer:

your tax records are concerned. The IRS employees who handle your returns must keep information confidential.

Disclosure of Rights: The IRS must give you a written statement of your rights, and the audit and collection process. If your tax return is being examined or you are involved in a formal Collection Interview. You have the right to record the interview on audiotape. If the IRS wishes to record the interview, they must notify you ten days prior.

Courtesy and Consideration: You are always entitled to fair, courteous and considerate treatment from IRS employees.

Hardship Assistance: If paying your tax will cause you a significant hardship, the IRS may arrange an acceptable payment plan or suspend collection.

Notice of Additional Tax: If the IRS determines that you owe additional taxes, or penalties or interest on those taxes, they must give you a detailed explanation of what you owe.

Refund of Overpaid Tax: If you feel, after paying your taxes, that you have paid too much, you have the right to request a refund. The burden of proof is, of course, on you.

Financial strategies to consider on new tax laws

If you're one of the taxpayers walloped by President Clinton's new tax law, here are some financial strategies from the Illinois CPA Society to help you cope with the tax law changes and ease some of the pain.

Make tax-favored investments

The Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993 added two new tax rates: A 36 percent rate that applies to single people with taxable incomes between $115,000 and $250,000 and couples with taxable incomes between $140,000 and $250,000; and a 39.6 percent rate for all taxpayers with taxable incomes in excess of $250,000.

If you're among the individuals hit by the higher tax rates, CPAs suggest that you start making deposits early in the year into tax-deferred investments, such as employer-sponsored retirement plans and individual retirement accounts (IRAs). Also, consider taking advantage of tax-exempt bonds. Generally, municipal bonds are tax-exempt at the federal level and many are also exempt from state and local taxes.

Consider capital gains tax

Although individual income tax rates have risen under the new tax law, the maximum capital gains tax rate remains at 28 percent. As a result, it may be more advantageous for individuals who are in the higher tax brackets to convert investments that generate ordinary income currently into investments in which the increase in value will be taxed at the lower capital gains rate upon disposition. Investments that generate ordinary income include Certificates of Deposit (CDs) and money market accounts. Sales of capital assets, such as real estate or stocks, generate capital gains. Be aware, however, that a series of anti-conversion rules have been enacted to prevent taxpayers from converting to certain types of investments solely for the capital gain benefit.

Shift income

You may also be able to reduce your income tax liability by shifting income to family members age 14 or older with lower income tax rates. (Special rules apply to children under age 14). If you're in the 39.6 percent bracket, shifting income to someone in the 15 percent bracket reduces tax on the income you transfer by 62.1 percent. You can also make annual gifts of up to $10,000 ($20,000 if the gift is from you and your spouse) to an unlimited number of recipients without incurring the gift tax.

Tax law's impact on estate plan

The new tax law also raised the top estate tax rate from 50 percent to 53 percent for estates of more than $2.5 million and to 55 percent for estates of more than $3 million. If you anticipate leaving an estate that is close to these thresholds, consider shifting assets through gifts, trusts and other means.

Track income

Single retirees with incomes (including half their Social Security benefits) of $34,000 or more, and couples with incomes of $44,000 or more, must now pay taxes on up to 85 percent of their Social Security benefits instead of 50 percent. However, for singles with taxable incomes between $25,000 and $34,000, and for married couples with taxable incomes between $32,000 and $44,000, the taxable portion remains at 50 percent.

If you're a Social Security recipient and can control the amount of income you make in a given year, try to avoid triggering the additional tax on your benefits.

Track deductible expenses

Tax deductions can provide some relief from higher tax rates. CPAs point out that to ensure that you obtain the tax deductions you deserve, you should track deductible expenses, such as medical costs, charitable contributions, and miscellaneous expenses throughout the year. And remember, the higher your marginal tax rate, the more valuable the deduction.

Seniors today determined to get most out of life

It's no secret that today's seniors are more vibrant, active, interested and interesting than ever. As the American population continues to age, the "youth culture" that has been a dominate force for so long in advertising, movies, television, literature and so forth is beginning to be replaced by images of people well past their teens or twenties.

Health care, social security, age discrimination, and retirement planning have become hot topics. Seniors have become a powerful social and political force, and they are using their new found power to fight for the causes that are important to them.

The prevailing image of the senior citizen is no longer that of grandmother baking cookies for her grandchildren, or grandfather spending his days in the porch rocking chair reminiscing about the good old days. The mature years are increasingly seen as a time to begin a new fulfilling phase of life.

Today's seniors travel, volunteer, go back to school, start new careers or open their own businesses, run for office or fun in marathons, ride around the country on motorcycles—or in hot air balloons! In short, if you dream about doing something when you were 20 (but were prevented from pursuing your dream by career or family obligations), there's no reason you can't do it in your 70s!

If you're getting ready to retire, the idea of all this activity may seem exhausting. After giving your all in the workplace for so many years, you may think you really are ready for the rocking chair. But chances are, after a few weeks of rest and relaxation, you'll find yourself feeling bored, restless, and ready for new challenges.

The key to an active, productive, happy retirement is good health and a positive attitude. If you're ready to go scuba diving in the Caribbean or on a photo safari in Kenya, you have the right attitude. And studies show that good health can be achieved at any age.

Even if you've never exercised in your life, it's not too late to start a fitness program. Exercise will improve your health, your looks, and your mental state. And who knows—in a year or two, you may be ready to run a marathon!

Older people have fat lingering in blood

It seems that everything slows down as we get older, and new findings on how we handle dietary fat bear this out.

A study at ARS' Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging at Tufts showed that older people have significantly more fat circulating in their blood after a fat-rich meal than younger people do. Since elevated triglycerides—as fats are called—contribute to the risk of heart disease, the finding has important implications.

A group of researchers at the center found that older people have higher blood levels of Vitamin A than their younger counterparts. Since the vitamin is fat-soluble, it gets packaged together with triglycerides in intestinal cells before entering the blood and stays with the fat-rich particles in circulation. So they reasoned they could use Vitamin A as a marker to gauge how fast the body cleared dietary fats from the blood by measuring the vitamin's clearance rate.

Eighteen men and women—half under 30 years old and the other half over 60—ate a meal of soybean oil containing a large dose of retinyl ester—a form of Vitamin A—after an overnight fast as a marker. Each then donated a pint of plasma which was reinjected two days later after another overnight fast. By withdrawing blood samples before and at regular intervals after the plasma infusion, the researchers tracked the disappearance of infused Vitamin A and related that to triglyceride levels throughout the same period.

"Vitamin A remained in the blood of the over-60 group almost twice as long as it did in that of the under-30 group," says Ernst J. Schaefer, a medical doctor who oversees lipid metabolism research at the center. "We think the difference is due to less active liver receptors," he says, referring to the proteins on the surface of liver cells that usher these fat-rich particles inside.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

Victory Memorial Hospital Receives National Recognition

Chosen as One of the Nation's 100 Top Hospitals

1324 North Sheridan Road

Waukegan, Illinois 60085

708-360-3000

Dear Community:

I am extremely pleased to inform you that Victory Memorial Hospital has been named one of the nation's 100 top-performing hospitals, according to a recent study conducted by HCIA, Inc. and Mercer Management Consulting.

In this study of 5,600 acute care hospitals across the country, Victory Memorial Hospital ranks in the top 100 for providing value to our patients. This is based on our superior performance in 8 important areas that reflect Victory's effectiveness and efficiency in clinical practices, operations and financial management.

Victory is proud to have received this national recognition. In fact, Victory Memorial Hospital is one of only three Illinois hospitals selected by the study.

This national honor recognizes Victory's long-standing commitment to high quality, cost effective care. We are deeply appreciative of our local board, our medical staff, our employees and our volunteers for making this award possible.

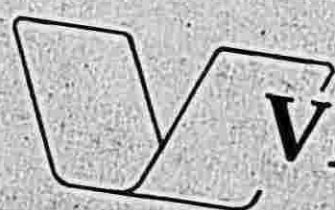

We are also grateful for the continued support of our community. Our mission is to provide value-based healthcare services. This independent assessment of our success using quality, clinical and financial benchmarks should reinforce your confidence in Victory as a place to receive high quality, cost-effective care.

Sincerely,

Timothy J. Harrington
President

According to HCIA, Inc. and Mercer Management Consulting, if all hospitals performed at the level of the top 100 hospitals, the results would be dramatic: hospital charges would decline by $40 billion and expenses would decline by $28 billion; hospital average lengths of stay would drop by a day or more; mortality rates would drop 12%; and surgical infection rates would drop 13%.

If you would like information on Victory Memorial Hospital and its services, please call us at 1-800-THE CHOICE.

The ambition to strive for all that is possible in this land is tempered by humbleness and gratitude — thus the desire to give thanks in the form of service."*

Herman Finch arrived in the United States from his native Russia in 1920 at the age of 6. Now approaching his 80th birthday, Finch remains diligently devoted to a task that since that age of 55 has been his life's work.

In 1948 when Herman Finch first became involved with the Chicago Medical School it was to celebrate its accreditation and save it from closing. During that time it was the only one of 90 institutions to weather the accreditation process and be allowed to remain open.

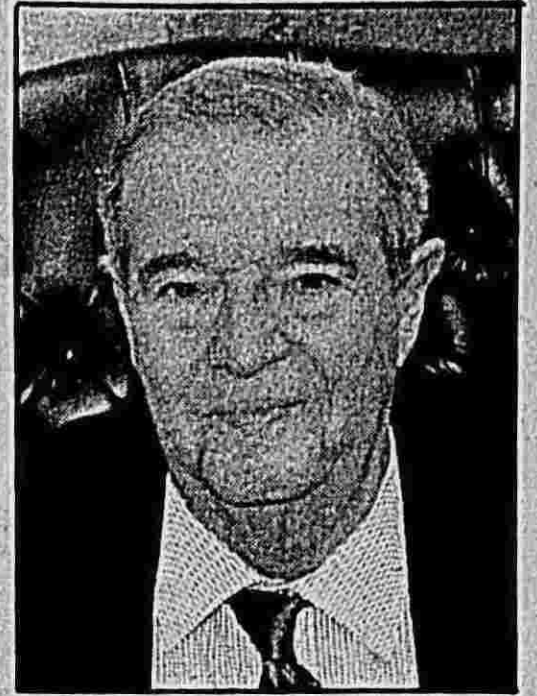

"I was inspired by what I heard," said Finch. "They were able to do the impossible." Finch took his inspiration from John J. Sheinin who served as dean of the school from 1933 to 1950 and as president from 1953 to 1966. Following his involvement in the fund raising efforts, he was asked to be a voluntary member of the board of directors.

Today, the school ranks among the top three in the nation for admission applications received and boast a staff that includes many world renowned researchers and the top doctors in their field.

Perhaps one of Lake County's shiniest gems, the school and its associated University of Health Science Clinics, boast one of the largest and most active alumni associations for a medical school and has the most students accepted to their first choice of teaching hospitals.

Ski trip benefits research

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

A weekend ski trip with a couple of guys going to Colorado, turned into a fund raising event in which thousands of dollars have been collected so far for the Leukemia Research Foundation.

Nine years ago when 10-year-old Alan Brin died from the fatal disease, his uncle, Mundelein resident Jerry Brin wanted to do something to help others. Brin explained how his brother who had just lost a son and himself, began their exploration of assistance.

"After he died (Alan) we joined the Leukemia Research Foundation and formed a nucleus of friends. Then we joined forces with another chapter of the foundation."

Brin and his buddies who had always gone skiing together, came up with the idea to turn the fun trip into something more positive. They started the Ski for Research fund raiser held each February in Steamboat Springs, Colo. They raised $25,000 to $30,000 to help biologists and doctors find a cure for leukemia.

Merton G. Silbar Public Relations in Glenview calls Brin's efforts "truly amazing." The Ski for Research trip brought in a record-breaking $11,000 in 1993 alone.

Brin, a certified public accountant, the owner of GB - CPA said that more than 40 men from around the country attend the getaway each year, and the bulk of the money is raised through the $885 trip fee and the proceeds from a silent auction.

The ski trip will take place Feb. 3 through Feb. 8 in Steamboat Springs. The cost includes round trip air fare, five nights lodging, lift tickets for five days, Nastar race hosted by Steamboat Resorts, welcome wine and cheese party, two picnics, farewell dinner, auction and donation to LRF.

Research Foundation works toward a cure

Since its inception in 1946, the Northbrook based Leukemia Research Foundation (LRF) directs activities of more than 1,000 volunteers, many from families who have lost a child to leukemia, in 14 local chapters having raised more than $12 million.

Leukemia results from the continuous increase in the number of abnormal white cells in the blood stream and bone marrow, all originating from a single malignant cell.

Eighty cents on every dollar raised from all fundraising events and efforts goes directly to Medical research seeking a cure for leukemia. LRF awards 12 grants annually to researchers all over the world who have applied for them; leukemia patients whose medical care costs are not covered by insurance; bone marrow drives/testing which will result in the saving of hundreds of lives through bone marrow transplants; and therapeutic support groups for leukemia patients and their families.

LRF has the honor of being the 1994 beneficiary of the 20th annual Northwestern University Dance Marathon (March 4-6) where 100 percent of all proceeds will go towards leukemia research.

Dance Marathon is the second largest college philanthropy in the nation, expected to raise over $200,000. Annual events include the Ski for Research trip to Steamboat Feb. 3 through Feb. 8; a Raffle Dinner May 2; a Fashion Show May 3 and May 4; a 5K Walk/Run on the lakefront June 11; Care-A-Lot Golf Outing June 20; and the Joe Marconi Bowling Tournament August 6.

restricted to men only," said the ski chairman and co-treasurer for the Chapter as well as financial vice-president for LRF. "A camaraderie develops among the skiers over those five days that makes the whole trip worthwhile and keeps them coming back every year," Brin added.

Around 80 percent of the money is used for funding medical research; providing financial aid to needy patients, organizing bone marrow drives and setting up support groups for leukemia patients and their families.

Sponsors for the Ski for Research include Continental Airlines, Steamboat Resorts, Rossignol Ski Co., Steamboat Ski Corp., Terry Sports and Custom Design and Tent Service.

Brin said that he thinks about his nephew and the fact he's gone, but is glad the boy at least had the chance to go skiing with him in 1978, a year before he died.

For more information about the fundraising ski trip, contact Brin at 566-5470.

Health dept. issues cold weather warning

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

The subzero temperatures might have headed back to the north pole for now, but with about two more months left of official winter, residents must still be cautious.

The Lake County Health Department is offering a free booklet with winter tips to assist people with the most common conditions caused by the cold.

Preventing frostbite is easy, but treating it is another thing.

Frostbite occurs when the cold slows circulation and causes the skin tissue to die. Parts of the body most affected are exposed areas of the face, as well as ears, wrists, hands and feet.

To prevent this, hats which cover the ears, scarves or masks covering the face, mittens and gloves so fingers can warm each other, and several layers of clothing should be worn to trap the body heat.

Frostbitten skin is whitish and stiff, and feels numb rather than painful. Treating potentially frostbitten skin includes warming the affected parts in gradually warm, never hot water. The skin should never be rubbed, as this could cause further skin damage, suggested the health department.

According to executive director of the health department, Dale Galassie, "The key to safety in winter, especially in the bitter cold we have had, is simple—avoid being outside any longer than you have to."

Galassie explained that dressing in layers is essential, and people shouldn't be concerned with looking fashionable in this type of weather. "For example, many people don't wear hats because they don't feel they 'look good' in them. This is not the type of weather to worry about making a fashion statement. Rather, worry about making a good health statement," Galassie said.

Another important problem which can occur is hypothermia.

Multiple Sclerosis monthly meeting set

The monthly meeting for the McHenry County MS Support Group will take place on Tuesday, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the east cafeteria at Northern Illinois Medical Center (NIMC). NIMC is located at Route 31 and Bull Valley Road, McHenry. The guest speaker will be Janet McElhone Pence, C. Ht., Certified Hypnotherapist. She will talk about hypnosis and the important role that it plays in helping people get well and stay well. Pence, founder of Alpha Institute, practices hypnosis in Crystal Lake.

Med School

directors have renamed the school, joined the board in 1966. Since that time he has taken the school from a deficit of $3 million to a net worth of $81 million and he has done so on the premise that students, faculty and the board of directors should work together like one big family.

The door to the office of this 79-year-old administrator is always open and he often finds time to intermingle with the students in the library or laboratory to query them about their views of the school and its mission.

Perhaps it is his first-hand knowledge, that the opportunity to learn and to be innovative are not rights shared by all citizens of the world that propelled him to work with the board of trustees to accomplish one of his first goals—creating a university devoted entirely to the health sciences and not subject to the pressures of the parent institution. The University of Health Science was founded in 1967. At that time it was the only such establishment in the United States.

Finch has made commitment and quality the trademarks of his job. The vision is never to compromise quality and to do the best that we can and should with the little that we have.

"A student that graduates this school is the most important supporter of our program in the future," said Finch. "What we have done with this school, the relationship is so different from other schools. We have a vertical relationship. That door never closes. Every student is a bright star. They may stumble but we do everything to help them not to fall. There is no ivory tower here." In keeping with that thought, students are represented on the board of directors.

The Chicago Medical School moved to Lake County in 1981 and is located adjacent to the Veterans Administration Hospital in North Chicago.

Finch's greatest experiment for the medical school is yet to come. Finch hopes to bring together the clinical faculty, clinician physicians, basic science faculty and allied health professionals to work jointly on education, health care delivery and research. "Others say it can't be done but I believe it can be," said Finch, who at 80 plans to continue his work indefinitely. "It is too much within me. I will continue as long as my health will allow me to do that. I can't sign a contract because the termination date is only known above."

Hotline answers calls on work-related wear, tear

A two-day physical therapy hotline will offer relief to paper pushers, number crunchers, computer hackers and others who are prone to work-related injuries. The hotline, sponsored by the Orthopedic Section of the American Physical Therapy Assn., will be held Feb. 3 and 4 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The toll-free number for the service is 1-800-955-7848.

Victims of the information age will learn how to prevent and alleviate on-the-job pains and strains such as back pain, carpal tunnel syndrome and other repetitive motion injuries.

"Wear and tear on the body from injurious work habits can eventually cause chronic pain or even disability. We want to help people protect themselves from these preventable occupational injuries," said physical therapist Annette Iglarsh, Ph.D., president of the Orthopedic Section.

The American Physical Therapy Assn. is a national organization.

Presented by:

Instructor at the College of Lake County

Eating healthy foods that are low in cholesterol is a good way to reduce your risk of developing heart disease. If you're already a heart-healthy eater, that's good. But, you could be getting more cholesterol than you think. Amidst the flurry of information surrounding heart disease, and the confusing packages at the grocery store, it's often hard to tell exactly what you're getting.

Cut through the clutter by attending this program devoted to cholesterol at the Heart Center of Lake County. A professional dietitian will teach you how to make sense of those confusing packages. You'll also learn how to turn your favorite recipes into low-cholesterol delights that are good for your heart. For more information or to register, call ASK-A-NURSE®, 244-5900.

The Life Skills Series at the Heart Center of Lake County is another way Saint Therese Medical Center is Making Health Happen.

Griefnotes

Funerals are for the living!

Funerals do not help the deceased, but they do help the living. Everyone who dies is important to someone - a mother, father, daughter, son, sister, brother, friend or colleague. When death comes, those close to the deceased usually have feelings they need to express. Memories of good times and bad come forth. Sentiments of love and sorrow rush out. Survivors may begin to evaluate their own lives. If death were not an emotional event, we would not need to mark it with a ceremony. Funerals provide a special way to express the important feelings we have.

How To Write A Bestseller.

Give the reader all the specifics.

Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as:

- color • size • condition
- brand name • age
- features • and benefits

Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts.

Include the price.

Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

Avoid Abbreviations.

Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in-kitchen) or WSW tires (white side wall) and won't take the time to figure them out.

Include phone number & hours.

Let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

Run consecutive weeks.

Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your sales representative. Run your ad for at least two weeks.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear Search: I have been offered a job with a company in Lake County recently and was told by the employer that I will need to bring in a copy of my Social Security card and Birth Certificate on the first day. While I am not scheduled to start work until the first of February, my problem is that I was born out of the United States during the time my father was stationed overseas and am unable to obtain a copy of my certificate of birth. I was told by a friend that there is a place in Chicago to get a copy of this. Do you know the name or address and telephone number? Thank you. S.M.M. - Libertyville

A: Dear S.M.M. The place you are referring to in Chicago is the Cook County Courthouse where one can obtain a certified copy of their Birth Certificate only if they were born within Cook County. So in your case...this will not help. I have however found with much checking that in order for you to obtain a certified copy of a report of birth involving a U.S. Citizen which has taken place overseas, it is necessary for you to first write to:

Passport Services
1425 "K" Street
Room 386 N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20522-1705

I am told that you will need to include a certified check or money order payable to that company in the amount of $10.00, as well as a list including your full name, birthdate, place of birth, your parents' full names at the time of birth and their citizenship. It will also be necessary for you to show your signature at the bottom of the letter. Your signature is required as a means of request authenticity. Do not forget to include a telephone number where you may be reached during the day. This should help you to obtain the certificate you need. I will further advise that I was told that this can take some time (but not outrageous), to process but do not get discouraged. It is important to always have your birth certificate handy yet tucked away in a safe place. However, since employers require the necessary I.D.s to conform with the Federal I-9 forms upon hire, please check with your employer to see if there are other forms that they will accept (there are others allowed) so as your first day of employment will not be held up due to the time needed to obtain the certificate you are applying for. Good luck and I hope that this helps.

Special Note to H.J. - Fox Lake: Thank you for your letter. It was forwarded to me and much appreciated.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

BRELLA

A bright and spacious family living space is at the core of the Brella, a compact three-bedroom home with a wide rear deck. This basically open floor plan could be easily adapted for wheelchair accessibility. Its size makes it affordable for first-time buyers, and easy to maintain for empty nesters.

In the family room, more than half of the rear wall is filled with glass. Consequently, natural light is adequate on all but the darkest days. Bay windows expand the floor space. Sliders in the center of the bay provide access to the raised deck. This room is spacious enough to accommodate a home entertainment center, a couple of couches, shelves for books and games, and even a desk for the family computer.

Seated in a peninsular counter, the kitchen sink faces into the family room. The opposite end of the counter is hidden by a narrow wall. Behind it you can tuck dirty dishes out of sight until there's time to pop them into the dishwasher. The rest of the kitchen is totally open to the family room, allowing cooks or members of the clean-up crew to participate fully in group activities.

Utilities are nestled in a small pass-through room that connects the house to the garage, close to the kitchen and secondary bedrooms as well. In addition to the washer and dryer, there's a good-sized closet for hanging clothes, and just outside the door, a broom closet.

The dining room and living room face the street. Here, too, plenty of natural light streams in through wide multipaned windows. In both rooms, the windows are set in rectangular bays that could be outfitted as window seats.

Outside the secondary bedrooms, the hallway is wider than most. Shelves line one side of the wall and a linen closet is convenient to everything.

The master suite isn't luxurious, but it is well-isolated from the secondary bedrooms. It has a walk-in closet and private bathroom. Sliding glass doors provide direct access to the deck.

For a study kit of the BRELLA (403-28), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number) For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Lake Villa builder's monster truck featured in magazine

BILL DERMODY, JR.
Staff Reporter

Some kids build model cars in the eighth grade. Jerome Schroeder started working on a Chevrolet 350 engine.

"It was just an old Camaro engine laying around, so I started to fix it up," said Schroeder.

This engine and a Chevy truck body received as a high school graduation present eventually became Bad Medicine, a prize-winning monster truck.

"As a kid, I always wanted a big truck, and my dad told me if you have a goal, stick with it," said Schroeder.

Over the years, Schroeder added a hydraulic-tilt front end, four-wheel steering, 44-inch tires, and 17 inches of lift. The old Chevy engine is now a supercharged power plant producing 600 horsepower, and has powered the truck to a feature in the August 1991 issue of Offroad magazine.

Schroeder drove the $50,000

truck until a change in vehicle laws prohibited its use on public roads. It was then he decided to buy a trailer and compete in truck shows, with the help of sponsors Superior Paving, Inc. of Ingleside and U Hot Dog Choo Choo Eatery of Fox Lake.

"I usually attend 10 or 12 shows a year in Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin," said Schroeder.

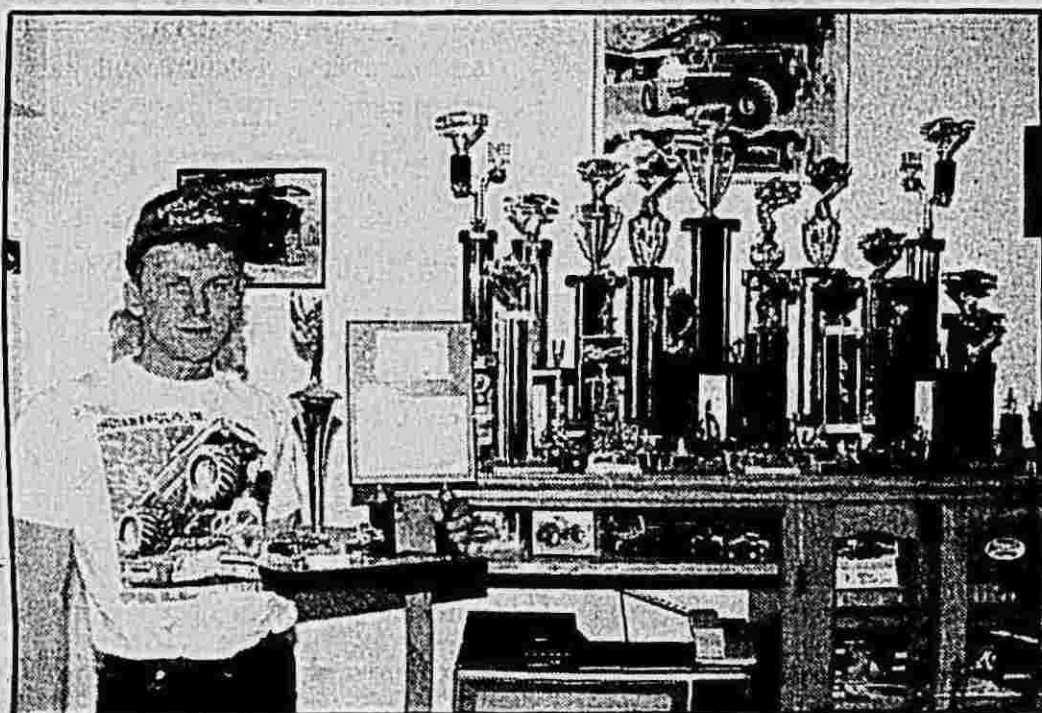

Next on his show list is the 32nd Annual World of Wheels high performance vehicle show at McCormick Place in Chicago, which runs January 28, 29, and 30. Schroeder has improved his performance at the event steadily every year since 1991, with a third, second, and first place finish in the "utility wagon" class.

Schroeder is not content with the awards he has received, however. He currently plans to sell the truck and build a full size car crushing monster truck.

"I want to beat Bigfoot," said Schroeder.

Schroeder displays some of the awards Bad Medicine has won over the years. Schroeder's next event is the 32nd annual World of Wheels show in Chicago.

CLC women hope home cooking brings wins

College of Lake County's women's basketball team has faced nationally ranked teams. And worse, at their home courts.

The results have been huge losses, such as Saturday's 93-40 defeat at the hands of Kankakee. The good news for the Lancers is the next few games are in the friendly confines of their Grayslake gym.

"We have played a lot of games on the road, but the next three are at home. This is where we will have to turn it around," Coach Don Zeman said.

The Lancers are 4-13, 0-4 in Skyway Conference. The Lancers fell 84-55 to Skyway power Elgin. CLC hosts Waubesa at 5 p.m. Feb. 1, McHenry Feb. 3.

Kankakee simply could not miss Saturday afternoon.

"They shot 73 percent in the first half, 27-for-37. We slowed them down to 64 percent in the second half, but they shot 41-69 for the game. They are in the top three nationally," Zeman said. CLC was paced by Christy Zink with 12 points, Julieanne Frankowski had 11 and Amy Scharlau 10.

CLC tied Elgin at 33-33 with three minutes left in the first half.

It seems hard to believe, but the National Football League championship game one year was played on a field that was only 80 yards long instead of 100—and despite such a short field, there was hardly any scoring!...The title game of 1932 was scheduled for Chicago, but a blizzard came, and officials moved the game inside to an arena where the longest they could make the field was 80 yards. The Bears won 9-0, with oddly enough, only one touchdown and one safety scored on that short field.

Again, not enough for 'Cats to stop Pats

STEVE PETERSON

Almost.

In some respects it is one of the cruellest words. Right up there with potential. Good enough to challenge, not good enough to win. Libertyville girls basketball team is living with two almost major accomplishments as Stevenson escaped with a 63-61 win at LHS Tuesday. Stevenson turned back the Wildcats in overtime in December, 61-59.

The winning streak was allowed to continue due to Stevenson making 6 of 8 free throws while Libertyville missed 3 it had to have. "All close games come down to free throws," Libertyville Coach Tom Murphy said. "They made theirs and we did not make ours."

Katie Coleman proved to be the hero for Stevenson. The senior calmly sank two with :18 left for a three-point lead. Lindsey Celba, who engineered a thrilling comeback with 8 of her 12 points in the fourth quarter, had a chance to make three, but managed just one with six seconds remaining.

"If I had just come off the bench, I would have been stiffer, but it was just in the flow of the game. It is doing the same routine over and over," Coleman (14 points) said of her free-throw shooting talents.

The veteran Libertyville club (10-2 NSC, 17-3 overall) overcame a 13-2 SHS lead and nearly pulled out the win without a fourth-quarter timeout.

Tamika Catchings and sister Tauja, the sister combination which has sparked the Patriots to 21 straight wins (12-0 NSC) and the top state ranking, were "held" to 13 and 19 points.

Danielle Mall added 10.

Stevenson, of course the top-ranked team in the upcoming Highland Park sectional, is at Warren Jan. 29 for a 2:30 p.m. game.

"We played well and scouted them three or four times. Tamika must get 10 to 15 fouls a game. She is getting a free ride," Murphy charged.

The Wildcats held sophomore Tauja to six first-half points, but she had 10 in the third quarter.

"Tauja got more determined in the third," SHS Coach Frank Mattucci said.

"I just wanted to win. Libertyville is our main rival," Tauja Catchings said.

"This is certainly a confidence booster for our club. It was nip-and-tuck. We do not like to live comfortably," Mattucci said.

The loss was one of few at home the Wildcats have experienced over the last 16 years.

"The Libertyville mystique is a thing of the past," Mattucci declared.

He had plenty of praise for Libertyville guard Mandy McLean. McLean took Kelly Karl's spot due to the standout recovering from mononucleosis. Sarah Weiss (14 points) also drew praise.

Julie Virta (team high 21 points) and Weiss kept the home team within shooting distance in the first half. Weiss had 10, Virta 11 of Libertyville's 28 points.

Stevenson, behind both Catchings, started the second half with a 12-5 run for a 10-point lead, 43-33 on a lay-up by Trish DeClark (8 points).

One-time spectator Bell enjoys racing's rewards

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Some four years ago, Paul Bell was spending Sundays at Wasz's Resort in Antioch.

Already an avid snowmobiler by recreation, Bell found excitement in watching the dragsters race one-on-one on the ice. Soon he would join them.

On Sunday, he would have what he described as the second most successful day of his racing career by finishing second in the open improved class and second in the AAA class.

"We just started watching at Wasz's and built our first sled," Bell recalled. "The first year, we did not do well at all. We took some fourths, but that does not count. As time progressed, we earned thirds and then seconds and firsts," Bell said.

Bell has three sleds today. This Sunday he raced a Polaris Indy 650 with a 1991 chasis. The effort is truly a "we", as Bill and Jason Urban of Gurnee make up the pit crew.

"The number of competitors vary. When it was 60 below zero out, we did not have that many racers. Or sometimes when there is money races elsewhere, they go there," Bell said.

Paul Wasz said families often come to watch the events. Between now and Feb. 20, test days are Saturdays with races on Sunday.

Categories range from pro stocks with a fee of $25 to $10 for trail sled entry. Racers come from as far away as Streator or Lemont or, in Bell's case, as close by as Wadsworth.

"The sport is a growing sport," Wasz said. "It is family oriented." Events include a radar run, going for speed.

Racers are tightly regulated for environmental impact of sleds. Any team not keeping the area free of litter can be fined $50.

Dumping chemicals also will result in a $50 fine and disqualification. Non-toxic anti-freeze must be run for slide lubricators. A spectator and his three-year-old son were out this day, enjoying the warm weather and the vroom, vroom of the engines.

WKRS radio presents games

Radio station WKRS will broadcast two boys basketball games this weekend. New Trier at Waukegan will be the Jan. 21 game at 7:20 pre-game, 7:30 p.m. tip-off. Mike Moyer will be on the play-by-play and Lou Jacobs providing the color commentary. Warren at Highland Park will be Jan. 22. Pre-game is 7:20 p.m., 7:30 p.m. tip-off. Dan Coppola will be on the play-by-play, Pat Cameron the color commentary.

Pats

us was when Taujas was out of the game and they cut a 19-point lead to 12. After that, she was a non-factor the rest of the game. The first and third quarters we showed patience," Mattucci said.

Stevenson (20-0, 9-0) recognizes opponents have talent, too, even when the star player is injured. That was the case Jan. 25 when Libertyville's standout guard Kelly Karl was out with mononucleosis.

"When a star player is injured or is ill, teammates pick up the slack. Opponents sometimes look past a team with an injured player," Mattucci said.

Stevenson was not about to let that happen at Libertyville. The Pats know Lindsay Celba, Julie Virta and three talented guards awaited them.

Mattucci termed this week a "venture into three venues which Stevenson has not had a lot of success." It ends Jan. 29 at Warren at 2:30 p.m.

By then, the Pats should have even more numbers to brag about.

From Genoa to Chicago, thrills aplenty for fans

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Richmond-Burton will be part of a bigger Big Eight and Big Northern Conference next year.

Girls basketball Coach Tom Lay said meetings are expected to be held next month to iron out scheduling problems and an odd number of teams.

"I hope they add another team to another division," Lay said. "Ourselves and Harvard are kind of stuck up here in Northern Illinois. We are not big enough for the Fox Valley or the Northwest Suburban Conference, but the other choices would be a step down," Lay said.

Hats off I (now that it is warm enough to): Grayslake boys basketball coach Greg Groth. Groth chalked up win No. 100 with a 71-56 victory over Marengo Saturday night.

"It was quite an honor getting it against Bill Barry, who has something like 600 wins," Groth said.

Groth did not do it with any big 22-game seasons in his nine years at the helm, either. Before this year, his best claim to fame was a conference title in 1987-88.

Speaking of Grayslake, the Rams truly have a sixth man in the fans. One of the Rams clocks has not worked all winter for time, and Rams fans shout down the seconds if the favorites are at the other end.

"A new clock is on order," Groth said.

Wouldn't it be fitting if that was in time for the Rams' post-season home game? That is in the hands of the other coaches, who decided if 12 wins and almost a lock on the NWSC title is enough for a first-round home game in the Waukegan sectional.

A basketball fan could do no wrong this weekend. The much talked about Mundelein 91-89 overtime win over Libertyville was just one of several thrillers.

Hats off II: to the school officials at LHS who A) tried to make sure everyone got a comfortable seat and B) maintained reasonable calm during the chaotic 20-minute delay for an injured fan.

A fan could be in Lake Zurich, where the Gators edged the Bears 44-42. It was decided when South's Chris Hibbs hit two free throws

Wait, here's a report coming in from Bensenville. Tony Petrovich (one of two Tonys to have a big night) came through with an 18-footer with 14 seconds left for an 44-41 win over Antioch. Coach Jeff Dresser must think his Sequoias 14 losses have all been close to that.

Hey, wait, another minute. "This is Wally the Warhawk calling from NCCHS." Anthony Vernado hit two free throws for a 71-69 win over Lake Forest, breaking a loss string. It was the second time Vernado has given the Warhawks winning points.

OK, but what about a certain game in Chicago Heights? Of course, it took free throws by leading scorer Dan Stasiek with 12 ticks left for a 61-59 Carmel win over Marian Catholic.

Don't forget our friends out west. Johnsbury rallies from 13 points down, but Grant (6-2 NWSC, 12-5 overall) keeps its NWSC title hopes alive as Kurt Filiatreault and Dan Dunleavy hit key free throws.

And way out west (but not in a different time zone), is a report from Genoa. Richmond-Burton falls shy 58-57 in the BEC to Genoa-Kingston.

Phew. Gets me tired just thinking about those games, but those are the ones memories are made of.

Time to get back to normal Saturday - except for R-B with a nice 15-point Rams win.

Mustangs' response is alarming for the 'Cats

During the chaos, Mundelein basketball players had a comforting thought for Coach Dennis Kessel.

"During the 15-minute break, our kids said, 'don't worry, coach, we will win this,'" Kessel said.

In a regular-season game for the ages, Mundelein won two wild finishes in stopping a Libertyville (5-3 NSC) effort that almost stopped Mundelein's Express, 91-89 in overtime.

The contest was a memorable one - from the fans negotiating for seats in the standing-room-only crowd, to the national anthem by a saxophonist who would put President Clinton to shame, to a game tying three (or was it two) by Kyle Kessel to a postgame sigh of relief in Mundelein.

"This game was a wake-up call. We had a horrible week of practice. But that is natural after you score 117 points," Coach Kessel said.

The 17-1 Mustangs all but clinched the North Suburban Conference title. They can trim the magic number down further when they host Zion-Benton Jan. 28 before another expected full house at MHS.

Mundelein needed to rally from 8 points down with less than a minute left in regulation to extend a winning streak.

Kyle Kessel (31 points) straddled the 3-point line, and the shot banked home for an 85-85 tie. The officials, Ken Mazarika and Connie Pier, may have thought the shot was for the win, as they raced off the court. Libertyville thought the shot was a 2, and celebrated. Mundelein, seconds later, learned it was a trey and celebrated some more.

Meanwhile, a fan awaited medical attention at the LHS side. Up to 9 LHS policemen were on the scene and high school officials tried to restore some sense of order.

"I have confidence in my shot," Kessel said, even though he was held to 11 at half.

"I thought it was a two," Heldman said.

Libertyville Coach Max Sanders said the effort showed the 'Cats, 8-point losers to Mundelein the first round, can stay with the powerhouse. "And maybe we will get a third shot against them," he said.

Kyle Kessel said the Mustangs continued to hustle despite being down 82-74 when freshman Eric Fischer (six points and more memories) made two free throws with 48 seconds left.

Libertyville would only score two more in regulation, on two free throws with :36 left.

Sean Stackhouse (28 points) gave Mundelein hope as he canned a trey with 20 seconds left and hit two free throws eight seconds later.

That led to The Shot. Kessel spun and banked a three.

"Why foul and stop the clock," Sanders said of the question he knew was coming. "Half of the people would have thought I should have stopped the clock, half let it run and the other half would have wondered why I am still coaching."

Senior Sean Devine tried the last-second trey in overtime that missed, but had a monster game. He had 25 points.

"He does so many little things," Sanders said.

Freshmen contributed. Tim Besel had the unforgettable experience of inboundng the ball against Mundelein pressure defense. Fisher made 3 of 4 fourth quarter free throws.

Like most teams, Libertyville came out to dethrone the mystique of Mundelein if anything else. Sparked by a crowd of thousands, Libertyville raced to a 28-19 lead after one. Heldman and Devine combined for 23 of the 28 first-quarter points.

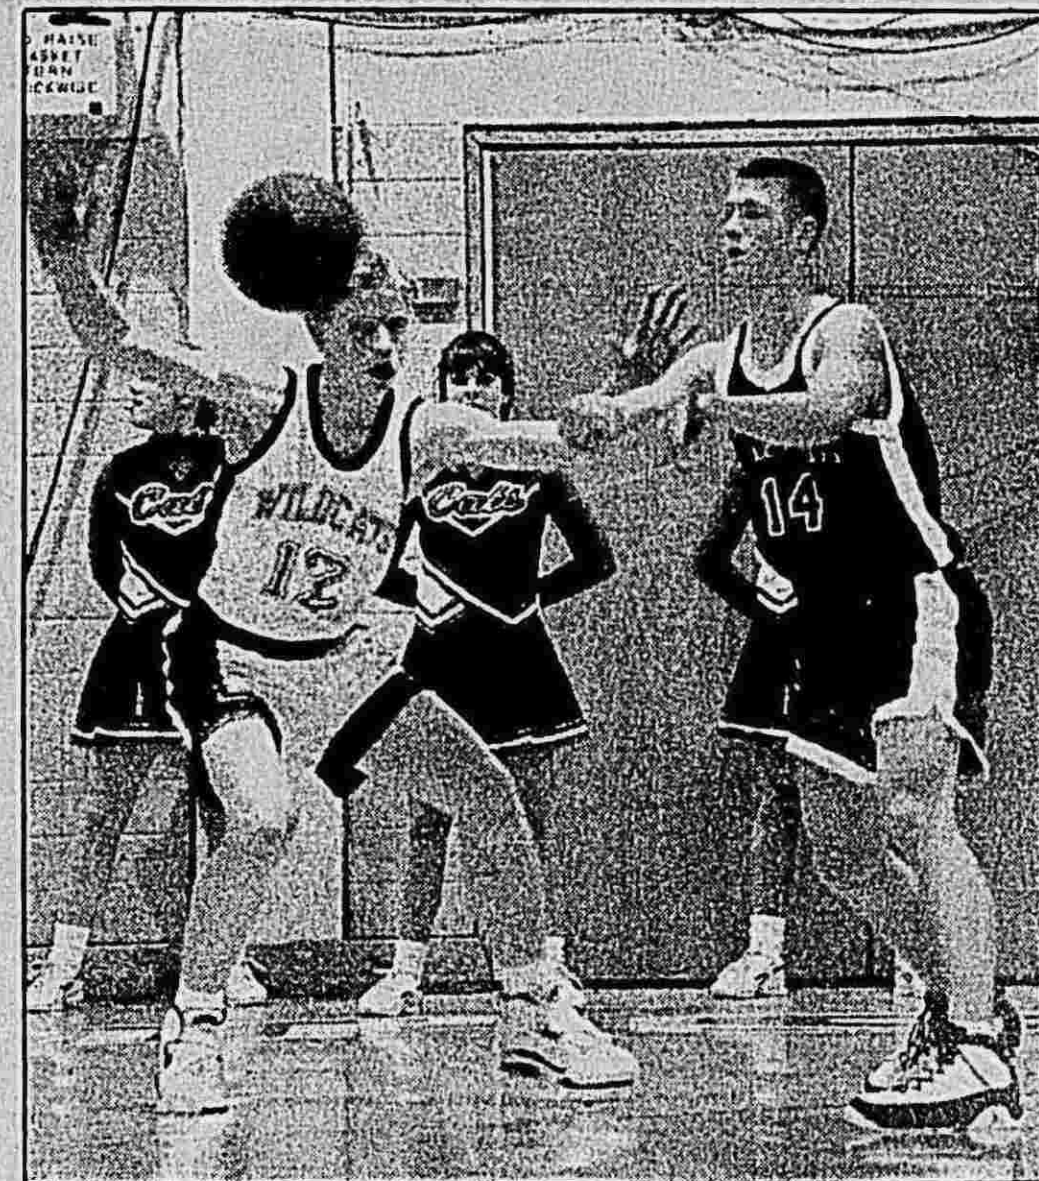

Mundelein rallied to take a five-point halftime lead. Stackhouse had 15 at the break, Kessel 11.

The home team dominated the third quarter, grabbing a lead at 58-57 on a trey by Via. The Wildcats went up by four on a Heldman hoop, but it took a three by Devine to regain the lead, 64-63.

About an hour afterward, Heldman summed up the Libertyville emotion.

"We played our hearts out, but they came out on top," he said.

Numbers all in Pats' girls favor as league title nears

Just by looking at the Catchings numbers of Tauja and Tamika tells a lot about why Stevenson's girls basketball team is nearly untouchable.

Tauja Catchings had 17 points, 9-for-10 free-throws, 4 field goals and 12 rebounds, 8 offensive and 6 assists in a 66-44 win over Pius XI.

"The free throws show a tremendous amount of concentration, the rebounds the heart and desire, the assists is the beauty of the player that she can play forward or guard and pass to the open player," Stevenson Coach Frank Mattucci said of the sophomore.

Tamika's numbers: 22 points, 18 rebounds, four blocks and five steals and 8-for-10 from the free-throw line.

"That is a complete player," Mattucci said.

Danielle Mall had foul trouble, but still managed 11 points. "I had to put her on the bench when she picked up her third foul in the second quarter. She is a calming influence offensively and she is an exceptional player defensively," Mattucci said.

The No. 1 ranked Patriots, No. 12 nationally, ran away and hid - but not for long - from Pius XI in the title game of the DePaul Classic. A 21-12 run started the game and Stevenson led 35-21 at halftime.

"In all of our games against top teams, we have been able to get

The Pats all year have stressed defensive rebounding and switching various defenses.

"Sometimes it takes the coach or a point guard 20 to 30 seconds to notice a switch. That works to our advantage, especially if we are in the lead. Defensive rebounding is half your defense. It is so disheartening to do all the wonderful things but then not box out and give up the 2 footer," Mattucci said.

Pius point guard Jenny Heft joined a long list of challenging point guards Tauja Catchings defended. "The only time she hurt See PATS page C30
